Brett - all three counsels (DOI, DOC, and USDA) have seen the invites and have signed off on the forest tour. You OK with it?

Drew - awesome work! This really sounds like it will be a success! Did we ever hear from DOC counsel? DOI, USDA have signed off - but need to hear from DOC to get final OK.

The Cattlemen folks in CO and AZ are moving forward on scheduling events for Thursday and Friday mornings respectively. I've checked flights from Rapid City to Denver and from Denver to Show Low and we should have no problem getting to CO on Wednesday evening and AZ on Thursday evening.

Colorado - I've committed to the Cattlemen that they can set up a roundtable discussion in Golden, CO from 10:00 am to 12:00 am and should be prepared to get our folks to the airport in Denver by early afternoon to head on to AZ.

Arizona - There is evidently a puddle jumper commercial flight from Phoenix to Show Low twice a day. Evidently, the Cattlemen have ways to affect the times of these flights to help us out (we're dealing with backwoods America here...everybody has a friend somewhere who can help). They want to have dinner with our folks on Thursday evening and put them to bed in the same hotel (different rooms). I am getting details on that hotel for you. Then, on Friday morning, we will have a roundtable and possibly a short tour of some fire areas.

They too will plan to have our folks back to the airport by early afternoon to return to DC.

Travel arrangements - We should coordinate where possible to make sure our folks are on the same flights and in the same hotels where possible. Therefore, please allow me some time today to pull flight and hotel suggestions together.
More to come.

Reinsurance Accord Rapped, May Unravel In Lame Duck

ÿÿÿÿ Euphoria among Senate Democrats, White House officials and some House Republicans over the terrorism insurance conference report died down late Thursday night and today, as it became clear that the bill is far from a done deal, sources on and off Capitol Hill agreed. Even as several Senate Democrats proclaimed victory, there was grumbling by some House Republican leaders about the way in which the terrorism deal had been cut. Key House conferees were not present in the room when the final agreement was sealed, including House Judiciary Chairman Sensenbrenner, who was the House GOP's point person on liability issues in the bill. The deal brokered on liability also angered some key House and Senate Republicans as well as business interests, who believe Democratic interests fared far better.

ÿÿÿÿ Sources said that Senate Democratic leaders would try to pass the reinsurance measure by unanimous consent as early as next week, during a pro forma session. However, House GOP leaders have signaled they would not try to pass the measure by unanimous consent, but neither would they bring their members back to town before the elections to vote on the bill. As such, there are significant concerns about the bill's fate in the House during a lame-duck session, which is bound to be emotional in the aftermath of the elections. "A lot of massaging has to be done in the House for this thing to move forward," one House GOP aide said today. Nevertheless, the bill's industry proponents are trying to remain optimistic. "We're extremely pleased with the progress that was made on the substance of many of the issues," said Maria Berthoud, senior vice president for federal affairs at the Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of America. Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., the lead negotiator on the conference report, said late Thursday the reinsurance measure was already being circulated in the House for signatures. Dodd expressed confidence it would be approved in that chamber. However, House aides asserted they had not received a copy of the conference report until today. The measure's prospects in the Senate are also unclear. Sources said that as of late Thursday, all Senate Democratic conferees had signed a report, but that none of the Senate Republican conferees had done so. Sources said a Senate GOP leader objected to a unanimous consent request by Democrats to approve the measure Thursday. Had the Senate been able to pass the measure, said one lobbyist with ties to the insurance industry, it would have helped seal the bill's fate in the House, notwithstanding any procedural or substantive concerns the House GOP leadership might harbor. "If it was portrayed as a fait accompli ( it's too late to object," remarked one lobbyist with ties to the insurance industry. However, some bill supporters are concerned that Senate Banking ranking member Phil Gramm, R-Texas, a conferee who has been critical of the measure, would raise procedural roadblocks. A Gramm spokeswoman said today he was still reviewing the conference report and had no comment on it. Gramm is retiring from the Senate at the end of the year. * by Pamela Barnett

Brett - We are finalizing our plans for the seminar. We have you scheduled for 45 minutes from 2:45 to 3:30. That will give you and Steve plenty of time to make it to Iowa City for the game.

We are in the process of putting together the handouts for the seminar. I hope you will be able to get me an outline of your presentation in the next ten days to two weeks. You can e-mail it to me and I will get it to the right place. I will also need a short resume so that I can make an appropriate introduction.

Please let me know if you will have any problems getting me an outline. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to e-mail or call.
thanks. Roger PRA 6

Subject: Judicial Watch Anthrax Case

Brett--Sorry for this response taking a few days; I had a car accident last Wednesday and I'm catching up. I think we should be prepared to release documents very shortly, probably by the end of the week.

Dear Playground Builders,

Thank you for your hard work! In just seven hours (including time out for pizza and ice cream) you helped to make an important difference for the children and families of the Oxon Run Park community. On Monday the playground was open for business. The planters were complete with little pine trees. The mud had dried. And according to all reports, our work is a smash with the kids.

We also thank you for giving meaning to the President's Call to Service, for setting an example for our colleagues, and in many cases for bringing friends and family members with you. We hope that you enjoyed yourselves as much as we did, and that you will consider joining the USA Freedom Corps for future building and restoration programs.

We will stay in touch with photos from the build and with invitations to work with KaBOOM! and other outstanding organizations in this area, and we hope that you will continue to join the millions of Americans who are answering the Call to Service.

I know . . . . Todd is blowing off the President to be at LSF.

Come if you can . . .

Brett

Didn't hear from you yesterday. Still hoping you can clear your schedule and make it out for the event -- the panel is you, Keith Ausbrook and Dan Troy. If you get a chance please just drop me a note and confirm (or withdraw) so that I can plan accordingly.

Thanks,

Brett

Thanks for agreeing to speak at the LSF on October 30. We have scheduled you for a panel at 4:30 PM along with Keith Ausbrook and (we hope) Alex Azar. The subject is basically a "mid year" review of the Bush Administration -- it's success and failures -- and how the Bush administration and the conservative movement can work together in the second half of the 1st term.

The event is at Lansdowne Resort -- directions are at www.lansdowneresort.com. Your panel will run to approx. 5:45. After a short break the group will reconvene at approx. 6:15 for cocktails, followed by dinner and a dinner speaker [we believe it will be Judge Loren Smith -- though he needs to clear a conflict] at which we hope you will be our guest.

On another note -- nice piece in the Post today.

See you then,
Paul

FYI that I am leaving the office approx 11am today to catch a flight to Texas. I'll be in Waco/Crawford doing Advance and will return to the office sometime late afn/early evening on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

If you need anything while I'm out please email or call Charlotte Montiel at 456-2632. I am reachable via cell PRA 6 and blackberry. While in Waco I'll be able to access my computer files and should be fully operational for ARG scheduling, etc.

Staff Sec - all red tags and other items for staffing should be given directly to Charlotte.

Thanks!

Libby

DEADLINE: 5:00 p.m. Thursday, November 7, 2002

In accordance with OMB Circular A-19, OMB requests the views of your agency on the above subject before advising on its relationship to the program of the President. Please advise us if this item will affect direct spending or receipts for purposes of the "Pay-As-You-Go" provisions of Title XIII of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990.

COMMENTS: Attached for your review, please find a draft copy of a VA report to Chairman Smith of the House Veterans Affairs Committee regarding H.R. 5127. VA does not support this legislation because it would shorten, from ten years to one year, the period of total disability necessary to support an award of DIC to survivors of veterans with cold-weather injuries. For your convenience, a copy of the bill text, as introduced in the House, is also attached.

Please provide your comments by 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 7, 2002. If we do not receive your comments by that time, we will assume you have no objection to the document as drafted.

If you experience difficulty with this LRM, or its attachment, please contact us immediately. To ensure receipt by Agency addressees, the electronic copy of this LRM will be followed by a duplicate copy via facsimile.

Thank you.

DRAFT

The Honorable Christopher H. Smith
Chairman
Committee on Veterans' Affairs
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I am pleased to provide the Committee with the views of the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) on H.R. 5127, 107th Congress. This bill would amend 38 U.S.C. § 1318 to authorize payment of dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) to the surviving spouse and children of certain veterans who incurred cold-weather injuries while in service. A surviving spouse or child would be entitled to DIC if the veteran's last discharge or release from active duty was before August 13, 1998, and the veteran, at the time of death, was in receipt of or entitled to receive compensation for a service-connected disability that was rated totally disabling for a period of not less than one year immediately preceding death, provided that the veteran's disability included a compensable cold-weather injury that was determined by VA, after August 13, 1998, to be service connected.

VA does not support this legislation because it would accord significantly preferential treatment to survivors of veterans who had cold-weather injuries as compared to survivors of veterans who had other types of disability. Entitlement to DIC has not previously been conditioned upon the nature or origin of a veteran's service-connected disease or injury. Under current law, DIC is paid when a service-connected disability caused the veteran's death or was rated totally disabling for a specified period prior to death, irrespective of the nature or origin of the service-connected disability.

DIC has historically been paid for deaths caused by service-connected disease or injury. In 1978, Congress authorized payment of DIC in cases of non-service-connected death if the veteran, at the time of death, was receiving compensation for a service-connected disability rated totally disabling for a continuous period of at least ten years immediately preceding death. This legislation provided a source of continued income to families that had necessarily come to rely upon VA benefits as a source of income over prolonged periods of the veteran's total disability. In 1999, the Veterans Millennium Health Care and Benefits Act authorized payment of DIC to survivors of former prisoners of war who died after September 30, 1999, if the veteran's disability was rated totally disabling for just one year or more immediately preceding death.

2.

The Honorable Christopher H. Smith

H.R. 5127 would shorten, from ten years to one year, the period of total disability necessary to support an award of DIC to survivors of veterans with cold-weather injuries. Cold-weather injuries would thus be accorded significantly preferential treatment over all other types of disability, which would remain subject to the ten-year requirement of current law, except in cases involving survivors of certain former prisoners of war.

We are aware of no basis for according such preferential treatment to cold-weather injuries. Although such injuries may cause severe disability, there is no apparent justification for singling them out from other injuries capable of producing total disability, including, for example, gunshot wounds, paralysis, blindness, amputations, or cancers. We have no basis for concluding that the impact on veterans and their families of total disability due to cold-weather injuries is substantially different from the impact of total disability due to other types of injuries or diseases. In the absence of any clear basis for such a distinction, we cannot support legislation that would require disparate treatment of similarly situated claimants.

VA estimates that this legislation would result in benefit costs of $1.1 million during the first year, $57.3 million over the first five years, and $221 million over the first ten years.

107TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 5127

To amend title 38, United States Code, to provide for payment by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs of dependency and indemnity compensation to the surviving spouse of a deceased veteran who for at least one year preceding death had a combination of service-connected disabilities rated totally disabling that included a compensable service-connected cold-weather injury.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 15, 2002

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Veterans' Affairs

A BILL

To amend title 38, United States Code, to provide for payment by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs of dependency and indemnity compensation to the surviving spouse of a deceased veteran who for at least one year preceding death had a combination of service-connected disabilities rated totally disabling that included a compensable service-connected cold-weather injury.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. DEPENDENCY AND INDEMNITY COMPENSATION
2 FOR SURVIVING SPOUSES OF CERTAIN VET-
3 ERANS WHO INCURRED COMPENSABLE
4 COLD-WEATHER INJURIES WHILE IN SERV-
5 ICE.

6 (a) DISABILITY RATED TOTALLY DISABLING FOR 7 ONE YEAR PRECEDING DEATH.—Section 1318(b) of title
8 38, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end
9 the following new paragraph:

10 “(4) The veteran’s last discharge or other re-
11 lease from active duty was before August 13, 1998,
12 and the disability—

13 “(A) was continuously rated totally dis-
14 abling for a period of not less than one year im-15 mediately preceding death; and 16 “(B) included, as part of a combination of 17 service-connected diseases or injuries considered

18 to form the rating of total disability, a compen-
19 sable cold-weather injury that was determined 20 by the Secretary after August 13, 1998, to be 21 service-connected.”.

22 (b) TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS.—Such section is fur-23 ther amended—

24 (1) by striking “if—” in the matter preceding 25 paragraph (1) and inserting “if any of the following 26 applies.”;

- 1           (2) by striking “the” at the beginning of para-
- 2           graphs (1), (2), and (3) and inserting “The”;
- 3           (3) by striking the semicolon at the end of
- 4           paragraph (1) and inserting a period; and
- 5           (4) by striking “; or” at the end of paragraph
- 6           (2) and inserting a period.

State's Alternative Iraq Policy

Imagine if Charles de Gaulle had spent his exile years fighting with State Department accountants -- U.S. officials who favored other French resistance leaders and nickle-and-dimed his every request for aid.

Now you know how Ahmed Chalabi and the Iraqi National Congress feel. Even as President Bush forces disarmament on Iraq, Foggy Bottom seems bent on denying funds to allies who could be crucial in any effort to topple Saddam and govern the country in the aftermath of his fall.

One unhappy irony here is that State is undermining precisely those opponents of Saddam who most share our values and want to turn Iraq in a modern, pro-Western direction. Another is that in the Bush Administration it is the Pentagon that seems to care most about building a pluralistic Iraq. State's Near East bureau behaves as if it wouldn't mind another Baath Party thug.

The INC isn't the only Iraqi opposition group, but it is the only Iraqi exile movement with a plausible claim to represent all of Iraq's diverse ethnic groups. It is also the only one to espouse a consistently democratic vision of Iraq's future. And it is the only one that can claim actual military success against Saddam. Back in 1996 the INC succeeded in unifying feuding Kurdish factions and controlling much of Northern Iraq, only to see the Clinton Administration renege at the last minute on a commitment to provide air cover; more than a hundred of its officers were slaughtered.

That fiasco became the inspiration for the 1998 Iraq liberation Act, in which Congress voted overwhelmingly to make "regime change" official U.S.

REV_00426822

policy and appropriate nearly $100 million for the Iraqi opposition. The CIA and State Department (which holds the purse strings) have been doing their best to thwart that policy ever since.

The latest round of budget squabbles finds State denying the INC money for a number of critical programs. First, there's Liberty TV. The INC wants to restart the satellite channel, which went off the air in May for lack of funds. The station could be crucial in convincing Iraqis to welcome a U.S.-led liberation of their country, and in dissuading Iraqi officers from obeying any order to use weapons of mass destruction. But State has denied requests for a very small amount of money to cover studio rental and a satellite uplink, and has suggested none will be forthcoming until at least early next year, which could be too late to make a difference.

The INC has also been working with the Defense Department to implement Mr. Bush's policy of recruiting and training Iraqis to help in any military conflict and reconstruction effort. Yet Foggy Bottom is demanding a cut in INC staff devoted to this effort. State even wants the INC to cut the post of Arab media coordinator. This position is important for getting out the message in a media universe dominated by the likes of al Jazeera, but apparently State only cares about the "Arab street" when it suits them.

Surely this kind of micro-mismanagement isn't what Congress intended, and it has raised eyebrows even at the State Department's own Office of Inspector General, which concludes in a recent audit that it was "impossible" for the INC to comply with various demands.

Senator Sam Brownback (R., Kan.) tells us he was assured by senior Administration officials that this problem would be resolved, "but it appears bureaucratic politics continue to plague this issue." He adds, "As our nation confronts the possibility of taking military action against Saddam, the very least we can do is fully fund the opposition."

The only good news on this front is that a Democratic Senate won't be around to abet Foggy Bottom's behavior. It turns out that when Vermont Senator Pat Leahy wasn't busy deep-sixing President Bush's judicial nominees, he was using his chairmanship of the Foreign Operations subcommittee to hold back INC funds. Last week long-delayed money for intelligence operations inside Iraq was finally released. INC efforts in this area have already provided U.S. intelligence with scores of defectors and a treasure trove of information on Saddam's weapons programs, and could be crucial to both inspections and military efforts.

The State Department's treatment of the INC was perhaps understandable during the Clinton years, when there was little policy direction from the top. But President Bush has now committed the country to disarming Saddam, and in all likelihood to regime change.

At a minimum, State's alternative foreign policy will only reinforce Arab suspicions about America's commitment to democracy in post-Saddam Iraq; at worst, it could end up costing American lives. The White House and Capitol Hill should remind Foggy Bottom's bureaucrats that they work for elected officials.

The Judge is going to Texas with his family for the Thanksgiving holiday. He will leave this Friday, Nov. 22nd early morning and will return to DC on Friday, Nov. 29th. Please let me know if you need time with the Judge or his review/approval on anything before he leaves town later this week.

I believe Tim will be in DC through the holiday.

Thanks!

I'm going to need help providing the food and drinks for the farewell party for Tim on Monday. Can everyone please bring one item from the list below? Please let me know which item you will be bringing so I can keep track of who is bringing what.

Here's the list:

5 bags of plastic cups and two packages of napkins (so about 100 total)

REV_00427072

two packages of small plates
4 3liters of Coke
4 3liters of Diet Coke
3 3liters of Sprite
3 big bags of ice
two vegetable trays (can be bought from the deli section of a grocery store if you call in an order) two sandwich trays (also can be bought from the deli section)
Dip and Chips/crackers (the individual/s supplying this can decide what dip and what chip/cracker but make sure you bring a lot) cookies (several plates) cakes x2 (have no fear--- they can easily be bought at a grocery store)

Please remember the mass number of people that will be dropping by when you determine the portions for the items you are bringing.
Thank you so much!!!!
Charlotte

If you are planning on coming in today, will you please shoot me an email?
Patrick is looking to distribute red-tags and is wondering who will be here to handle them.

Does this help identify the letter about the Florida case? I haven't heard back from correspondence yet.

Copyright 2002 The Florida Times-Union
The Florida Times-Union (Jacksonville, FL)

SECTION: NATIONAL INTERNATIONAL; Pg. A-1
LENGTH: 543 words
HEADLINE: Justice to review civil rights figure's '64 killing Woman slain as race riots swept city
BYLINE: Paul Pinkham, Times-Union staff writer BODY:

President Bush has asked the Justice Department to review the 1964 Jacksonville slaying of an African-American woman considered a martyr of the civil rights movement.

The White House wrote last week to inform a former Jacksonville police detective, who had written the president several months ago, about Bush's decision.

Johnnie Mae Chappell was fatally shot while walking along New Kings Road as race riots swept through the city in March 1964. She was searching for a wallet lost when she ventured out to get ice cream for her family. Four white men were charged with murder but only one was convicted -- of a lesser charge of manslaughter.

No one disputes the killing was racially motivated, but Chappell's son Shelton and former detective Lee Cody have long insisted that Jacksonville police covered up evidence in the case. For instance, the gun that fired the fatal bullet disappeared from the police property room, and Cody and a partner found case evidence hidden in a supervisor's office. Cody and his partner, Donald Coleman, were fired after investigating the slaying.

In his letter to Bush, Cody said Jacksonville police obstructed justice in the case and even convinced the local FBI office to 'back off.' He urged the president to reopen the investigation and to convince his brother, Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, to empanel a grand jury outside Duval County to look into the matter.

'The White House is sending your inquiry to the Department of Justice, which will review your correspondence,' a presidential staffer wrote. She promised a prompt response.

Chief Assistant U.S. Attorney Jim Klindt said the normal course of events would be for the inquiry to be turned over to the Justice Department's civil rights division.

'There'll probably be some sort of preliminary investigation done, and depending on how it shakes out, then I think at some point we'd have the opportunity to get involved,' Klindt said. He noted that the recent successful murder prosecution of Jacksonville police officer Karl Waldon was a civil rights case.

Shelton Chappell, who was 4 months old when his mother died, said he was encouraged by the letter. He described her as 'one of the unsung heroes of the civil rights movement.'

Indeed, Johnnie Mae Chappell was honored two years ago by the Southern Poverty Law Center in Alabama as a civil rights martyr.

Chappell is appealing the dismissal last year of his family's lawsuit against the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and the men accused of killing his mother. He said he expects the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta to hear arguments on the appeal within the next two months.

Cody said he decided to write the president after Bush made a public appeal for help weeding out those responsible for corruption inside the FBI, past and present.

'I told them I can prove what I'm saying,' he said.

Over the decades, Cody's crusade to get the Chappell case reopened has fallen on deaf ears. But he told First Coast News, the Times-Union's news partner, last night he's optimistic that won't happen this time.

'I think it's a different era,' he said. Staff writer Paul Pinkham can be reached at (904) 359-4107 or ppinkham@jacksonville.com.

I will introduce you and your topic. You are scheduled for 45 minutes. I would think that you would want to have 30 minutes of prepared remarks and leave maybe 15 minutes for questions. You could also encourage questions during your prepared remarks and that may also generate some questions. The audience will be 250-300 attorneys who practice in federal court. All of the federal judges and magistrates who do not have a conflict attend the seminar and will all speak in the morning on panels. Many of them stay around for the entire seminar. All of the attendees are interested in the system, the appointment of judges and many are interested in the politics as well as the legal aspects of the process. Have politics infected the process of appointing federal judges to the point where it is harming the judicial branch of government? How do we get it back on track? The President's remarks and suggestions in October make a great deal of sense. But timing isn't the only concern. Many commentators believe that we will have some Supreme Court openings soon. Are we heading for "Bork" hearings on each nominee? What is the Senate's role? What should it be?

We have been fortunate in Iowa that Senators Grassley and Harkin have generally been supportive of each others candidates. There are some hard feelings by some however that Bonnie Campbell did not make it through for the Eighth Circuit in the closing months of the Clinton Administration. But, for the most part we have gotten very good federal judges through in a fairly timely basis.

Just some idle thoughts from an outside observer. I am looking forward to your remarks. Roger Thanks very much. What should I do as far as format? I could speak for a while and take questions, which usually is the most interesting and effective approach. How long would you want me to speak for, and how long would question period be?

Roger: My assistant Raquel is calling you about the flights and to obtain a credit card from you, which is necessary under our rules. I plan to arrive at 1:30 on Monday at Des Moines. If the weather looks bad, I will switch that morning to an earlier flight to make sure there are no problems.

Attached are the President's book-end speeches (May 9, 2001, and October 30, 2002) on the judicial confirmation process, which I will discuss during my remarks. I suggest that you include them in the CLE materials.

We need your contact info for the holidays.

If you are staying in the DC area just say so and let me whether or not you are planning on being in the office. There will certainly be a few red tags and we need to know who will be around to help out be it physically in the office or from your home.

If you are leaving the DC area please let me know what dates you will be gone and provide phone numbers where you can be reached.

I NEED THIS INFORMATION ASAP, PLEASE!

Thanks!

The team of Sampson, Montiel, Carroll, Kavanaugh, and McNally (with assistance from Walker, Nelson, Newstead, Berenson, and Riepenhoff) somehow scrapped out a narrow win over the team of Leitch, Francisco, Cabral, Powell, Bartolomucci, Bumatay, and Camp (who had assistance from Everson and Brilliant). This determination almost certainly is arbitrary (it is based on a team average of those bowlers on each team who completed 10 frames). David Leitch -- aided by a turkey in frames 6, 7, and 8 -- earned individual high score with a 159!!

Exciting news! My last day here at the White House will be on Tuesday, January 7, 2003 (that's not the good part). I will be off to start my new position as Executive Assistant to the Secretary at the Department of Energy (good part!) I am very excited for this new opportunity but sad to leave all of you wonderful people at the White House. It has been so much fun here in the West Wing and I look forward for our paths to cross again.

Happy Holidays!

I just wanted to let you all know that I've accepted a new and very exciting position. Larry Lindsey is starting an economic consulting company and he has asked me to come with him. I see this as a great opportunity and as you all know Larry is an incredible person. My last day will probably be sometime the week of the 13th.

I can not express how wonderful it has been working with all of you. I will miss you all so much!!!

Thanks for everything!

Brett:

As you may know, I chair an annual event called Mark's Run.

It's a 5-kilometer race held in honor of my friend Mark Ferris, who died two years ago from Juvenile Diabetes. The proceeds from the Run are divided between the juvenile diabetes foundation and a landon school scholarship fund in Mark;'s name. Last year the event raised drew 400 runners and raised $70,000 ($35K went to each organization).

I'm helping put together the run again this year, and Ken offered to host a dinner at his house to help raise some funds.

What are the rules that might be associated with such an event?

- Can ken do this?
- if so, can we use our personal emails (definitely NOT gov't, of course) to invite friends?
- if not, can he attend a dinner at someone else's house?

thanks for helping with this - we're grateful!

Supreme Court justice says courts misinterpreting church-state separation

Eds: SUBS grafs 6-7, "However, the justice xxx with four new grafs to

UPDATE with details of lone protester, additional comments

By GINA HOLLAND

Associated Press Writer

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) -- Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia complained

Sunday that courts have gone overboard in keeping God out of government.

Scalia, speaking at a religious ceremony, said the constitutional wall between church and state has been misinterpreted both by the Supreme Court and lower courts.

As an example, he pointed to a ruling in California that barred students from saying the Pledge of Allegiance with the phrase "one nation under God."

That appeals court decision is on hold pending further consideration by the same court, but the Supreme Court could eventually be asked to review the case.

Scalia, the main speaker at an event for Religious Freedom Day, said past rulings by his own court gave the judges in the Pledge case "some plausible support" to reach that conclusion.

However, the justice said he believes such decisions should be made legislatively, not by courts.

The rally-style event drew a lone protester, who silently held a sign promoting the separation of church and state.

"The sign back here which says 'Get religion out of government,' can be imposed on the whole country. I have no problem with that philosophy being adopted democratically. If the gentleman holding the sign would persuade all of you of that, then we could eliminate 'under God' from the Pledge of Allegiance. That could be democratically done," said Scalia.

The rest of the crowd repeatedly cheered Scalia, whose son, Paul, is a priest at a nearby Catholic church. The justice, also a Catholic, is a father of nine.

Several hundred people joined him in singing "God Bless America" after a brief parade through downtown.

"He's the voice of reason on the Supreme Court," said Jim McFall, a retired FBI agent who organized the Knights of Columbus parade. "His remarks were right on the money. The pendulum has swung too far and people have said "enough is enough.' We'll see it swing back.'

REV_00427321

Scalia used the event to repeat criticisms that the Constitution is being liberally interpreted. "It is a Constitution that morphs while you look at it like Plasticman,' he said.

The Constitution says the government cannot "establish' or promote religion, but Scalia said the framers did not intend for God to be stripped from public life.

"That is contrary to our whole tradition, to "in God we trust' on the coins, to (presidential) Thanksgiving proclamations, to (congressional) chaplains, to tax exemption for places of worship, which has always existed in America.'

Travelers Property Casualty Strengthens Asbestos Reserves to $3.4 Billion Following Study of Recent Trends

Company to Take $1.3 Billion Fourth Quarter 2002 After Tax Charge

Expects Full Year 2002 Net Loss of Approximately $27 Million or $0.03 Per Share

Currently Projects Record 2003 Net Income of $1.7 to $1.8 Billion or $1.69 to $1.79 Per Share

Travelers Property Casualty Corp. reported today that it has completed its previously announced study of its asbestos reserves. The study involved an extensive review and assessment of Travelers' exposure to asbestos losses, particularly in light of the company's recent claims experience and industry-wide trends.

"This reserve strengthening reflects a conservative view of trends that have become clearer over the last few quarters and our estimate of the projected ultimate cost of our asbestos liabilities," said Robert I. Lipp, chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "The study was extremely comprehensive and included a review of past settlements, all active policyholders, litigation, and potential non-product exposures. The study also considered the potential for new claims from unidentified policyholders, as well as exposures to insurance industry pools."

"We have taken this important step, while maintaining a strong capital position with significant earnings power," Mr. Lipp added.

The study found that the vast majority of the Company's exposure to asbestos losses are related to long-known policyholders. Travelers' exposure relating to policyholders submitting claims for the first time in recent years was not found to be significant.

Travelers engaged an outside actuarial consultant to review the methodology employed, who concluded that "The Travelers approach is thorough, comprehensive and constitutes industry 'best practice'."

As a result of the study, Travelers has strengthened its asbestos reserves to $3.4 billion, after reinsurance recoverables, up from $950 million at September 30, 2002. Accordingly, Travelers will record a $1.3 billion after-tax charge in the fourth quarter 2002, which is net of the remaining amount under the company's indemnification agreement with Citigroup Inc., its former parent. The reserve includes a provision for all settlements, both final and proposed, including the proposed settlement with PPG Industries.

RESERVE ANNOUNCEMENT

While Travelers does not believe that survival ratios are the best measure of reserve strength, the reserve addition increases the Company's one-year survival ratio, adjusted for settlement agreements, to 14.9x. The three-year survival ratio, adjusted for settlement agreements, increases to 27.1x.

For the full year 2002, Travelers expects a net loss, including the fourth quarter charge, of approximately $27 million, or $0.03 per share and operating income of approximately $118 million. For the fourth quarter of 2002, including the charge, Travelers expects a net loss of $793 million, or $0.79 per share, and an operating loss of $925 million. The principle difference between net and operating income (loss) is the inclusion in net income (loss) of realized investment gains and losses and the cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles. Travelers plans to release fourth quarter 2002 results on January 23.

Travelers currently projects that it will report record net and operating income for the full year 2003 of $1.7 billion to $1.8 billion, returning shareholders' equity by mid 2003 to the September 30, 2002 level and raising return on equity to 16.7% to 17.6%. These estimates are based on various assumptions, including normal catastrophe losses, no net realized investment gains or losses and no asbestos incurrals.

In the fourth quarter 2002, Travelers repaid its $1 billion note to Citigroup and contributed $900 million to its operating subsidiaries to maintain their strong statutory capital positions. These actions were funded by available cash and $750 million of new debt. Travelers expects to repay substantially all of this new debt by the end of 2003.

Separately, Travelers strengthened its environmental reserves in the fourth quarter by $100 million, bringing the total to $386 million, and reduced its reserves for cumulative injuries other than asbestos by $95 million, bringing the total to $554 million. ♦

This release contains certain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements, other than statements of historical facts, may be forward-looking statements. Specifically, we have forward-looking statements about our results of operations, financial condition, liquidity, and the sufficiency of our asbestos reserves.

Many risks and uncertainties may impact the matters addressed in these forward-looking statements. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied. In particular, the sufficiency of our asbestos reserves, as well as our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, to the extent impacted by the sufficiency of our asbestos reserves, is subject to a number of potential adverse developments including, among others, the willingness of parties, including the Company, to settle disputes, the impact of aggregate policy coverage limits, and the impact of bankruptcies of various asbestos producers and related businesses. For more information about these factors and those discussed below, see the Company's March 21, 2002 IPO prospectus which has been filed with the SEC.

Some of the other factors that could cause actual results to differ include, but are not limited to, the following: our inability to obtain price increases due to competition or otherwise; the performance of the Company's investment portfolios, which could be adversely impacted by adverse developments in U.S. and global financial markets, interest rates and rates of inflation; weakening U.S. and global economic conditions; insufficiency of, or changes in, loss reserves; the occurrence of catastrophic events, both natural and man-made, including terrorist acts, with a severity or frequency exceeding the Company's expectations; exposure to, and adverse developments involving, environmental claims and related litigation; adverse changes in loss cost trends, including inflationary pressures in medical costs and auto and home repair costs; developments relating to coverage and liability for mold claims; the effects of corporate bankruptcies on surety bond claims; adverse developments in the cost, availability and/or ability to collect reinsurance; the ability of the Company's subsidiaries to pay dividends to the Company; adverse outcomes in legal proceedings; judicial expansion of policy coverage and the impact of new theories of liability; larger than expected assessments for guaranty funds and mandatory pooling arrangements; a downgrade in the Company's claims-paying and financial strength ratings; the loss or significant restriction on the Company's ability to use credit scoring in the pricing and underwriting of Personal Lines policies; and amendments to, and changes to the risk-based capital requirements. For more information about these and other factors that may affect the Company, please see the Company's filings made with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Company's March 21, 2002 IPO prospectus that contains a discussion of risk factors.

Our forward-looking statements speak only as of the date made, and we undertake no obligation to update these forward-looking statements.

Golden Possibilities
California is winnable for Republicans.
By Shawn Steel

In the aftermath of the historic November elections, Republicans around the country are scratching their heads and asking, "What is up with California?" They're not alone. Speaking as a California Republican, it's disconcerting to watch your home state act as a seawall repelling the national Republican tide and handing the Democrats complete domination of state government.

It's easy to blame the defeat on unfriendly demographic changes, an alleged tectonic shift to the left, and the Democrats' overwhelming superiority in money and organization (actually, the last has a lot to do with it). If it were as simple as that the Democratic ticket should have won in a landslide, not by the narrow margins they actually received. Only Attorney General Bill Lockyer was able to break 50 percent. It's one thing for the intensely unpopular Gray Davis to eke out reelection with just 47 percent of the vote. But for all other Democratic statewide candidates * lacking Davis's baggage * to be elected by similarly anemic percentages indicates Democratic dominance is a mile wide and an inch deep.

In fact, Republicans picked up two seats in the state assembly and a state-senate seat that had been redistricted to elect Democrats. The defeat of the statewide ticket here was largely man-made. No one worked harder or had a better message than Bill Simon. Merely citing Bill Simon's inexperience and his chaotic, mistake-prone campaign staff only goes so far. Attention needs to be paid to the man-behind-the-curtains: Gerald L. Parsky.

Parsky is a liberal, ultra-wealthy Los Angeles investor. He's also President Bush's self-appointed man in California, a sort of White House California viceroy. He holds no formal title or party office and few Republicans know his name, but he is unarguably the single-most-powerful Republican in the state. He has the last word in federal judicial appointments in California, and harbors aspirations to be treasury secretary.

Seeds of the Election Day disaster were planted a year ago, when Parsky muscled through a restructuring of the state party that transferred executive authority from the elected chairman to an unelected operations committee controlled by himself * effectively severing ultimate control of the party from grassroots activists and giving it to a small oligarchy. As party chairman, I voluntarily assented to the experiment on the strength of promises by Parsky that he would, in exchange, leverage his close relationship with the White House to raise at least $10 million for the party's political plan. Lacking a Republican governor or U.S. senator, California Republicans desperately need the help of a Republican White House to raise the huge sums necessary to be competitive in the fall

Thus began a string of broken promises and blockheaded decisions that significantly contributed to our losses this November. Parsky bestirred himself to raise only $3.5 million of the $10 million he originally pledged. The relative ease with which he accomplished that * that money was raised with just three fundraising events * left many party leaders wondering why he chose not to raise the additional millions that would have made the difference in some close races.

The promised stream of Cabinet officers and other high administration officials to raise funds proved to be less than a trickle. While Parsky did bring in Vice President Dick Cheney to headline two of his three fundraising events, and Karl Rove and Jack Oliver touched down for brief donor tour, Parsky was curiously unable to include a single fundraising opportunity on the itineraries of more than 100 visits to California by Cabinet officials during the last year.

At the same time, Parsky * who controlled party finances and expenditures * starved state-party operations, hoarding revenues in separate campaign accounts and refusing to fund vital campaign efforts until very late * too late * in the game.

This indifference and mismanagement bled into the Simon campaign. Parsky threatened to block funds for Simon's candidacy unless his campaign was put in the hands of Rob Lapsley * a long-time operative who had been in charge of Secretary of State Bill Jones's abysmal gubernatorial primary campaign.

Lapsley was behind shifting the line of attack away from Davis's greatest weakness * his bungling of the energy crisis * to his ethics. Simon campaign strategist Sal Russo claims that this was done, against his own advice, at the behest of "donors" (read Parsky) by means of more financial blackmail. Russo also says that TV spots targeting Davis's gubernatorial record were produced * ads that actually moved voter opinion * but unfortunately were spiked by the same "donors."

Ignoring wiser counsel, Lapsley rashly decided to release the famous photo purporting to show Davis illegally accepting a contribution in a state office. Instead, the photo turned out to be in a private home and was perfectly legal. He didn't even bother to verify the circumstances of the photo until after it was released. The ensuing uproar deprived Simon of credibility and the momentum needed to pull ahead in the home stretch. Although Simon needed all the help he could get, Parsky advised Bush to stay away from California during the cross-country barnstorming that did so much to power the Republican recapture of Senate. As Ken Khachigian noted in the Wall Street Journal, "The president's last political visit to California was in August, so Mr. Davis was sheltered from the withering backwash of Air Force One and those high octane rallies which pulled so many other Republicans across the line."

Tom McClintock, the conservative state senator who was the nominee for controller, was also a victim of Parsky. McClintock, a popular conservative thinker and leader, led in all the polls and had the best chance of any Republican to win a statewide office. The RNC had sent Parsky $600,000 to help the down-ticket candidates. Even though McClintock was fighting for his life against a multimillionaire Democratic opponent who was pounding him on TV, Parsky passed him a paltry $100,000 and sent the remainder to moderate candidates with much-dimmer prospects of winning. It's worth noting that McClintock * easily the most-conservative member of the statewide ticket * received more votes than any other GOP statewide candidate, ultimately losing by only 22,000 votes out of almost 6.5 million cast.

In addition to hamstringing ideologically incorrect Republicans, Parsky ignored urgent advice to counter the Democrats' aggressive voter-registration drive. California voters are 44 percent Democrat and 35 percent Republican, with 15 percent declining to state their affiliation * the narrowest gap in years. Significantly more funding could have gone towards a vigorous, end-of-cycle registration program to further shrink the gap and make GOP candidates that much more competitive. Unfortunately, Parsky rejected the additional funding needed.

These actions had real-world impact. The Democrats credit their win in the 18th Congressional District (Gary Condit's old seat) to a net gain of 25,000 new Democrats (vs. 4,000 for the Republicans) during the last four months of the campaign, after Republicans had reduced the Democratic lead earlier in the year from a gap of 17 percent district to seven percent. We cannot undo the bungling, but we can at least learn from it so it isn't repeated in 2004 and 2006. So, what is to be done?

WINNING STRATEGIES

* First, since the president stands an excellent chance of winning California's 55 electoral votes two years hence, Gerry Parsky ought to rethink his role as Republican strategist-in-chief for California. Consider his track record: In 2000, as then-Governor Bush's campaign chief in California, with $24 million to spend, he brought Bush into the state for four time-wasting visits in the closing days of the presidential campaign, only to lose by 1.3 million votes. That strategy cost Bush time and money in four states he lost by less than one percent * Oregon, New Mexico, Iowa, and Wisconsin * and caused the grueling post-election electoral stalemate.

* Second, accountability must be restored in the state party. Presently, the operations committee serves as a mystery body, where no one receives credit or blame. Since my term next month, such action has no bearing on me. But if the party is to attract dynamic chairman candidates, the position ought to be worth having.

* Third, and most important: In the long run, California Republicans must adopt a dramatically different approach to winning elections. Democrats enjoy a perennial advantage in their ability to deploy a veritable army of thousands of paid workers at every election. Republicans have to match that effort if we are to prevail in the future.

This isn't a pipedream. Republican National Committee research on the 1998 and 2000 elections revealed that the Democrats consistently exceeded pre-election surveys by four or more points due to massive GOTV efforts in the last three days of the campaign. The RNC rolled out a "72-hour Plan" program in 31 states this year in an effort to duplicate that result * with great success.

This ground-attack effort was a central factor in the GOP's stunning November success in Georgia * which for years had stubbornly resisted the GOP tide in the south * where Rep. Saxby Chambliss defeated Democrat senator Max Cleland, Sonny Perdue beat Democratic governor Roy Barnes, and the GOP took over the state legislature. The defeat of Barnes, an up-and-coming political leader often mentioned as a vice presidential pick for 2004, is widely considered the upset of the year. Ralph Reed, Georgia's GOP state chairman, broke all the barriers and fielded 3,000 paid and volunteer canvassers, bringing about a landmark political change. The approach is straightforward: Recruit thousands of college students during the summer to work weekends until Election Day. Their jobs would be to talk to the 25 percent of Republican who are not regular voters, work with conservative independents, encourage absentee balloting, and push reluctant Republicans to the polls on Election Day. It's not astrophysics; it's working the precincts and doing politics * something Republicans should know something about.

The RNC paid to dispatch hundreds of workers to targeted states to assist in the final push. The entire effort was costly, but paid off in terms of more personal voter contact. Last March, I proposed a similar program of 10,000 paid and volunteer workers to fan out across the state: knocking on doors, registering voters, getting supporters to the polls, and generally whipping up excitement for the ticket on the ground. It would have been expensive, but we would have been well positioned to exploit a favorable turnout scenario and gained an extra three-five points on Election Day * sufficient to have pushed several of our statewide candidates over the top. Unfortunately, Mr. Parsky refused to fund it. Perhaps the evident success of the RNC's 72-hour plan will change some minds.

For those who think California is simply hopeless for Republicans no matter what they do, take a look at this map. It compares how the state's 58 counties voted in 1998, the year of Davis's landslide election, and this year when he limped to reelection. Davis counties are colored (appropriately) green, while counties that went Republican are colored (also appropriately) red.

The difference is striking. The 1998 map boasts a thick green belt of counties encompassing the coast, the Bay Area and all of southern California except Orange County * the 34 counties won by Davis. The 2002 map, however, is a sea of red, with Davis reduced to 18 counties * basically Los Angeles, the Bay Area, and the northern coastal tier. Despite a gubernatorial nominee whose campaign never got off the ground, Republicans recaptured a lot of territory. If the party can restore its vigor, replicate the success of the ground attacks like Georgia's, and capitalize on the president's popularity, I am optimistic George W. Bush will win the state's electoral jackpot and Barbara Boxer will be sent back to Marin County where she belongs.

* Shawn Steel is chairman of the California Republican party.

Hey Guys: Update on tournament planning....I have negotiated a discount rate at the Georgetown Suites Hotel. The Georgetown Suites is located at 30th and M streets in the heart of Georgetown. It is within walking distance of all the great spots that Joe, SC "Our Man" Watson and I used to haunt back in the days.....Room configurations are as follows:

1. 1 Bedroom Suite: Has a King size bed and a couch in the parlor area that folds out to a double bed. This room sleeps up to 3 or 4;
2. 2 Bedroom Suite: Has a King size bed in one room and a double bed or two twin beds in the 2nd room. It also has a couch that folds out into a double bed. This sleeps up to 5 or 6.
3. Townhouse Suite: 3 bedrooms with a King in one, a double in one and two twins in the 3rd bedroom. The couch also folds out to a double. This unit sleeps up to 8 people.

Please let me know if you are interested in a reservation and I can get prices for you. The rates will be the lowest you can find for that weekend for a hotel that is not a dive!

As for the White House Easter Egg Role on Easter Monday....I need to get some idea of the numbers of you who are interested in attending.....Adults are only allowed on the White House Grounds if they are escorting children....So for those of you Adults who have multiple kids you might need to share. Adults without kids and who want to go....you'll need to borrow a kid for the day! Finally, for those of you who have sent in your entry fees already, THANKS. Those who have not, don't forget entry deadline is Friday, April 4th. All for now!

Catholics move to the center of the bench

By TIM UNSWORTH

Sometime in the early 1940s, my father returned from a business trip and announced to his family: "Shake the hand that shook the hand of Justice Frank Murphy." During that same trip, he stopped in Kansas City, Mo., and was introduced to Harry Truman, who had been a senator from that state since 1934. But my father had barely heard of him. It was Murphy, the only Catholic on the Supreme Court, that caught his baptized eye.

It was a period in Catholic thinking during which we celebrated Catholic all-American ping-pong teams. Besides, Murphy, a former mayor of Detroit, governor of Michigan and U.S. attorney general, was only the fifth Catholic to serve on the court since it was established in 1789, a period of 151 years. The Jews had to wait 127 years until Louis D. Brandeis, the first Jewish justice, was appointed by Woodrow Wilson in 1916. Compare that to the 32 Episcopalian behinds that have warmed the bench since George Washington appointed John Jay (Episcopalian) in 1789.

Now comes George W. Bush, who sees at least one vacancy on the court (maybe two) at the end of the present term. Seven of the nine justices have been appointed by Republican presidents, but the president is uncomfortable with any Dem-ocrats hanging around. It is likely that William Rehnquist, Lutheran and chief justice, who is almost 79, will leave the court after 31 years. Further, Sandra Day O'Connor (Episcopalian), who will be 73 in 2003, is making sounds that she may return to her California home.

The oldest justice is John Paul Stevens, an 82-year-old Protestant with a Catholic wife. However, he has given little indication that he's ready to hang up his gavel. Further, with an average age of nearly 69, these nine justices could almost compete with the College of Cardinals. The aging court could use a bladder control prayer group. Any one of them could make the Last Judgment at any time.

According to The New York Times, President Bush has staffers making lists of potential candidates in order to meet the late spring deadline and to mount a strong defense of his choices who will likely be even more conservative than he is.

At the moment, the front-runner for the first vacancy is Alberto R. Gonzales, a White House counselor and former legal adviser to Bush when he was governor of Texas. Reports suggest that Harvard Law School graduate Gonzales, who came from a poor Texas family, has the requisite loyalty and philosophical conservatism that Bush craves. More important, if nominated and approved, he would be the first Hispanic to serve.

President Bush needs Hispanic votes. The nation now has over 35,300,000 Latinos -- most of them with roots in Mexico. His brother, Jeb, governor of Florida, is married to a Latina-American and has converted to Catholicism. Jeb helped to deliver Florida's electoral votes, the ones that put George in office, even though he lost the general election. Allegedly, Gonzales wants the post. Even now, his staff suggests that he likes to be addressed as "Judge Gonzales." He is conservative, antiabortion -- and Catholic.

Two other possible candidates are Samuel Alito, judge of the appeals court in Newark, N.J. However, Alito is Italian-American as is Justice Antonin Scalia. Alito once clerked for Scalia and earned the nickname "Scalito."

Then, there is Miguel Estrada, perhaps a more reliable conservative than Gonzales. The hard-nosed conservatives don't amount to that big a political block, however.

It's just that they're louder and Bush is fearful of them. In any case, all three potential justices are Roman Catholics.

That suggests there may be four, maybe five Catholics on the court by next spring -- an extraordinary shift. The new justice -- or two -- would join Scalia, Anthony Kennedy and Clarence Thomas.

There hasn't been a Catholic chief justice in 82 years. Bush might prefer Scalia but the opinionated justice would have a hard time even with the new Republican Congress. He's a brilliant justice but he shaves with his tongue. He could become another Robert Bork. Both Scalia and Kennedy will be 67 in 2003. And Clarence Thomas, 55 this year, is still recovering from the Anita Hill debacle. Further, he is regarded as a Scalia clone. (Thomas is a convert to Catholicism. He drifted away from the church for some 28 years but has returned, often attending Mass at St. Joseph's on Capitol Hill, just behind the court.)

The first Catholic to serve was Roger B. Taney, son of a wealthy slave-owning family, who raised tobacco. Years later, as chief justice, he supported slavery even for descendants of slaves. This was a period during which some Catholic colleges and seminaries used slave labor (now called athletics). Taney, a former Federalist, was the fifth chief justice, appointed by Andrew Jackson in 1836. He served until 1864, long enough to incur the wrath of Abraham Lincoln.

Edward D. White of Louisiana was appointed to the court in 1894 by Grover Cleveland. He was named chief justice in 1910 and led the court until 1921. White graduated from the Jesuit College in New Orleans and then went on to Georgetown. He was the court's ninth chief justice and was generally considered a conservative, although he did help to speed the advent of the eight-hour day for railroad workers. He was enshrined in Statuary Hall in 1955, together with 13 other Catholics.

Joseph McKenna, a William McKinley appointee, served for 26 years (1898-1925). He had been the U.S. attorney general but had little consistent legal policy. For a few years, he shared the bench with Pierce Butler, a Warren Harding appointee from Minnesota, who served for 16 years (1923-39) and was generally considered a conservative.

Then came Frank Murphy, a New Deal Democrat, appointed in 1940 by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Prior to his nomination, he was widely recognized for his relief efforts. He left the court to serve in World War II but returned and served until 1949. The first -- and next to last -- of the Catholic liberals, he condemned the wartime imprisonment of the Japanese.

William J. Brennan was recognized as a liberal Catholic judge. He served 33 years (1956-90) before retiring, sometimes drawing criticism from major bishops who were growing more conservative. He ruled often for a greater guarantee of justice for the poor. By the time he left the court, two other papist justices, Antonin Scalia and Anthony Kennedy, were serving.

The potential of the voting power of four Catholics on a nine-member court is worth pondering. Only one additional vote from a Jewish justice or a lonely WASP could produce some of the many 5-4 decisions. Ruth Bader Ginsburg, 69, second female and a Jew, was appointed by Bill Clinton in 1993. Stephen G. Breyer was appointed in 1994. (He does not list himself as Jewish by religion but is considered a cultural Jew.)

Unfortunately, the four Catholics are conservative, two of them -- Scalia and Thomas -- to the right of Attila the Hun (a devout barbarian), and two others -- Kennedy and (maybe) Gonzales, leaning to the right. There are no Murphys or Brennans.

Presently, there are issues such as capital punishment, just war, abortion, disabilities, immigration, school vouchers, welfare, wages, homosexual unions, sodomy, fair employment and college admissions practices, and so on, that need to be sorted out. Responses all have roots in church teaching but, with the exception of abortion and cloning, it doesn't seem to matter much anymore. The situation is not unlike the laity's response to Humanae Vitae, the encyclical on birth control. The bishops continue to rant about birth control but the Catholics in the pew pay no attention. Neither will the justices.

Just when Catholic justices have moved to the center of the bench, it doesn't seem to matter if they are Cath-olics or Rosicrucians. It's a shame. My long-deceased father, who finished only grammar school, would not have washed his hands for decades after shaking the hands of four Catholic justices.

As you may know, we are hosting a briefing tomorrow for the State of the Union. I received a request for Jack Oliver, Mindy Tucker, and Jim Dyke to attend. Adam asked me to have you check with Ken, Dan, and Karl and see if they are ok with this?

Brett, Is this ok? Karl and Dan are doing the briefing.

;;;;;;;; ;;;;;;;;; clerk's office would like to send up after noon.; That timing also gives our and DOJ press office a chance to reach out to local media outlets and get good stories placed.

I have a dentist appointment tomorrow, but should be in a little after 10am. John, our intern, will be here to answer the phone and help you with whatever needs to be done. I am sorry that we will short-handed in the morning, but hopefully we will have a new paralegal and staff assistant here soon.

Hopefully I have gotten around to all of you, but;since tomorrow is;my last day I wanted to thank everyone for making this such an enjoyable place to work.; I hate goodbyes, but wanted to make sure you all know what a pleasure it has been.; I have had the honor of working with each one of you in some capacity.; I wanted to say thanks for your professionalism and thank you for your friendship.; I leave this privileged appointment a better person having been associated with all of you and even more important, I leave this Administration proud to have served with you.; I wish you all the best in your continued service to our country.

All my best,

Nelson

End Original ARMS Header #####

Hopefully I have gotten around to all of you, but;since tomorrow is;my last day I wanted to thank everyone for making this such an enjoyable place to work.; I hate goodbyes, but wanted to make sure you all know what a pleasure it has been.; I have had the honor of working with each one of you in some capacity.; I wanted to say thanks for your professionalism and thank you for your friendship.; I leave this privileged appointment a better person having been associated with all of you and even more important, I leave this Administration proud to have served with you.; I wish you all the best in your continued service to our country.

All my best,

Nelson

Hopefully I have gotten around to all of you, but;since tomorrow is;my last day I wanted to thank everyone for making this such an enjoyable place to work.; I hate goodbyes, but wanted to make sure you all know what a pleasure it has been.; I have had the honor of working with each one of you in some capacity.; I wanted to say thanks for your professionalism and thank you for your friendship.; I leave this privileged appointment a better person having been associated with all of you and even more important, I leave this Administration proud to have served with you.; I wish you all the best in your continued service to our country.

All my best,

Nelson

Hopefully I have gotten around to all of you, but;since tomorrow is;my last day I wanted to thank everyone for making this such an enjoyable place to work.; I hate goodbyes, but wanted to make sure you all know what a pleasure it has been.; I have had the honor of working with each one of you in some capacity.; I wanted to say thanks for your professionalism and thank you for your friendship.; I leave this privileged appointment a better person having been associated with all of you and even more important, I leave this Administration proud to have served with you.; I wish you all the best in your continued service to our country.

All my best,

Nelson

I had lunch on Friday with, John Norton Moore, who is, as many of you know, a professor of international law at UVA Law School and generally helpful to the Administration. Among other things, however, Professor Moore mentioned that he is co-counsel (with Steptoe & Johnson) for US nationals who were held prisoner and abused by Saddam during the first Gulf War; he wants to try to reach Andy Card or Karl Rove in the next few days to request a meeting to urge Administration support for their claims against Iraq and efforts to attach Iraqi frozen assets. He wants the White House to put pressure on State to support these claims. I told Professor Moore that the White House is well aware of these cases; that they are tragic; but that we cannot get involved in these individual cases at the White House. If Karl or Andy do get a call, I would urge that we refer Professor Moore to the Legal Adviser of the State Department or the General Counsel of the Treasury Department.

Bush nominates Palo Alto Latina for appeals court bench
By Howard Mintz

REV_00428523

In a move that could bolster Latino representation on the nation's largest federal appeals court, President George W. Bush today nominated a Latina state appeals court justice to the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Consuelo Maria Callahan, who currently serves on the Sacramento-based Third District Court of Appeal, would become the second Latino judge on the 28-member 9th Circuit if she is confirmed by the U.S. Senate. Bush nominated Callahan to fill one of four vacancies on the San Francisco-based appeals court, which interprets law for California and eight other western states.

A native of Palo Alto and a Stanford University graduate, Callahan, 52, has been a state appeals court justice since 1996, when she was named to the court by former Gov. Pete Wilson. Callahan was previously a San Joaquin County Superior Court judge and a longtime prosecutor in Stockton.

The Bush administration is also close to nominating San Francisco Superior Court Judge Carlos Bea to the 9th Circuit, according to Republican lawyers and judges familiar with the process. Bea and Callahan, if eventually confirmed, would join Judge Richard Paez of Los Angeles as the court's Latino members.

The White House has named two other 9th Circuit nominees, Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Carolyn Kuhl and Nevada lawyer Jay Bybee, who are currently encountering opposition from Democrats in the Senate. If the Bush appointees are confirmed to the 9th Circuit, they would join a court that is heavily dominated by judges appointed by Democrats and which is widely considered the country's most liberal.

Bush nominates Palo Alto Latina for appeals court bench

By Howard Mintz

REV_00428525

In a move that could bolster Latino representation on the nation's largest federal appeals court, President George W. Bush today nominated a Latina state appeals court justice to the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Consuelo Maria Callahan, who currently serves on the Sacramento-based Third District Court of Appeal, would become the second Latino judge on the 28-member 9th Circuit if she is confirmed by the U.S. Senate. Bush nominated Callahan to fill one of four vacancies on the San Francisco-based appeals court, which interprets law for California and eight other western states.

A native of Palo Alto and a Stanford University graduate, Callahan, 52, has been a state appeals court justice since 1996, when she was named to the court by former Gov. Pete Wilson. Callahan was previously a San Joaquin County Superior Court judge and a longtime prosecutor in Stockton.

The Bush administration is also close to nominating San Francisco Superior Court Judge Carlos Bea to the 9th Circuit, according to Republican lawyers and judges familiar with the process. Bea and Callahan, if eventually confirmed, would join Judge Richard Paez of Los Angeles as the court's Latino members.

The White House has named two other 9th Circuit nominees, Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Carolyn Kuhl and Nevada lawyer Jay Bybee, who are currently encountering opposition from Democrats in the Senate. If the Bush appointees are confirmed to the 9th Circuit, they would join a court that is heavily dominated by judges appointed by Democrats and which is widely considered the country's most liberal.

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

JOBS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH FACT OF THE DAY

FEBRUARY 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day
February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

JOBS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH FACT OF THE DAY

FEBRUARY 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.
- 92 million taxpayers—especially middle-income Americans—will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

<<Econ Fact of Day 2-14-03.doc>>

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day

February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

Today's Action

Ø Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

Ø Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

Ø These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now? when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

Ø Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Ø 92 million taxpayers?especially middle-income Americans?will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day

February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

Today's Action

Ø Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

Ø Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

Ø These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now? when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

Ø Under the President?s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Ø 92 million taxpayers?especially middle-income Americans?will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day

February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

Today's Action

Ø Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

Ø Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

Ø These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now? when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

Ø Under the President?s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Ø 92 million taxpayers?especially middle-income Americans?will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine's Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President's jobs and economic growth plan.

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day
February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

JOBS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH FACT OF THE DAY

FEBRUARY 14, 2003

46,000,000

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day
February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

? 92 million taxpayers*especially middle-income Americans*will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

46,000,000

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day
February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

? 92 million taxpayers*especially middle-income Americans*will benefit as tax reductions passed by Congress in 2001 are made effective immediately. Middle-income families will receive relief from the accelerated reduction of the marriage penalty, a faster increase in the child tax credit, and immediate implementation of the new, wider 10 percent tax bracket.

46,000,000

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

Jobs and Economic Growth Fact of the Day
February 14, 2003

46,000,000

Number of married couples who will be able to enjoy Valentine,s Day a little more knowing that they will receive an average of $1716 as a result of the President,s jobs and economic growth plan.

Today,s Action

? Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President,s jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.

? Under the President,s plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.

? These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now) when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.

? Under the President,s plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

JOBS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH FACT OF THE DAY

FEBRUARY 14, 2003

46,000,000

TODAY'S ACTION

- Secretary of the Treasury John Snow traveled to Philadelphia to discuss the benefits of the President's jobs and growth plan with American taxpayers.
- Under the President's plan, the standard deduction for married couples would be increased to double the amount of the standard deduction for single taxpayers in 2003. The width of the 15-percent tax bracket for married couples would be increased to twice the width for single taxpayers in 2003.
- These provisions were scheduled to phase-in over the period between 2005 and 2010 as part of the tax cuts of 2001. President Bush believes that the time to deliver this relief is now—when it can do the most good for married couples, businesses, and the economy.
- Under the President's plan, 46 million married couples would receive average tax cuts of $1,716 in 2003, with the total tax relief for the tax year reaching $78 billion.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19. Therefore, we will need you to move your car by 8 pm. Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience. If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19. Therefore, we will need you to move your car by 8 pm. Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience. If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19. Therefore, we will need you to move your car by 8 pm. Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience. If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night;since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot.; We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.;

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19.; Therefore, we will need you to move your car by;8;pm.; Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience.; If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night; since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot.; We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.;

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19.; Therefore, we will need you to move your car by;8;pm.; Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience.; If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

The National Park Service was unable to plow State Place last night;since some of the machinery was unable to maneuver through some of the curves that make up the lot.; We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.;

Please be advised that GSA will plow State Place tonight, February 19.; Therefore, we will need you to move your car by;8;pm.; Alternate parking may be found on the Ellipse.

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience.; If you have any questions or concerns please email me.

Thank you.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 5, 2003

Dear Senator Daschle:

As you know, some Democrat Senators have engaged in a filibuster to prevent a vote on Miguel Estrada's nomination. They have stated that they want more information about Mr. Estrada's record before they will end the filibuster and allow the full Senate to vote up or down on the nomination. We strongly believe that the Senate has sufficient information and should hold an immediate up or down vote. In an effort to be responsive, however, I wrote to you on February 27 to indicate that Senators who want more information can and should avail themselves of three different and important sources: Senators should meet with Mr. Estrada, pose written questions to him, and/or pose inquiries to his former superiors in the Department of Justice and Judiciary. Since my offer of February 27, however, I understand that no Senator has submitted any questions to Mr. Estrada and that no Senator has submitted any inquiries to his former superiors. And only one Senator, Senator Byrd, has scheduled a meeting with Mr. Estrada.

We are deeply disappointed by and do not understand the near-uniform lack of response thus far to my suggestion of ways in which Senators could gather more information about Mr. Estrada. Being respectful of those who have stated that they want more information, however, I want to reiterate what I stated in my letter of February 27. I urge Senators engaged in the filibuster to avail themselves of the existing opportunities to gather additional information. Senators who want more information can and should promptly meet with Mr. Estrada, pose written questions to him, and/or pose inquiries to his former superiors in the Department of Justice and Judiciary. If the asserted basis for the filibuster -- the need for more information -- is the actual motivation, Senators who have engaged in the filibuster should avail themselves of these existing sources of information.

My renewed invitation is not to suggest that we find merit in the contention that Senators currently do not have sufficient information to vote up or down on Mr. Estrada. In that regard, I ask all Senators who have engaged in the filibuster to carefully compare the extensive transcript of Mr. Estrada's hearing, as well as his subsequent written answers, to the transcripts of the hearings of President Clinton's three appointees to the D.C. Circuit: David Tatel, Judith Rogers, and Merrick Garland. (Two of these three nominees had no prior judicial experience, like Mr. Estrada.) Such a comparison demonstrates beyond any reasonable debate that Mr. Estrada was asked for and has already provided far more information than any of those three appointees. Judge Tatel was asked a total of three questions at his hearing. Judges Rogers and Garland were each asked fewer than 20 questions at their hearings. The three appointees of President Clinton -- combined -- thus answered fewer than half the number of questions at their hearings that Mr. Estrada answered at his hearing. What is more, both Judge Rogers and Judge Garland declined to give their personal views on disputed legal and policy questions. Judge Rogers refused even to give her views when asked about the notion of an evolving Constitution. And Judge Garland did not answer questions about his personal views on the death penalty and on various Supreme Court precedents, stating only that he would follow the precedents. In short, we believe that the criticism of Mr. Estrada's answers at his hearing is misplaced and reveals an unfair double standard being applied to Mr. Estrada.

We strongly believe that the record justifies an immediate up or down vote. I also respectfully urge those Senators who continue to filibuster on the ground that they need more information to avail themselves of the existing sources of information.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

Alberto R. Gonzales
Counsel to the President

The Honorable Thomas A. Daschle

Susan;; I wanted to mention a opportunity for Mr. Rove following his reception Thursday evening, March 20 here in Texas.; The reception is at 7pm and ends around 8:30pm.; Mr. Rove and his friends from Austin may want to go to dinner and visit.

We have the offer to reserve a semi-private room at a local restaurant, the Huisache, that can serve 20 plus easily.; Joe Guinn of our Arrangements Committee and Pacificare has offered to cover the cost.; They have done this many times in the past.

We could invite his special guests like the Oles, Herndons, Richburgs, and Thomas', etc..If there are other guests he wants to be invited let me know.; Is Mrs. Rove and or other family members coming?

Our tickets are at the printer and we can send out the complimentary tickets soon.; Let me know.; Also, let me know what we owe you on his airline arrangements.;;

Thanks!;;; MIKE

No, our conference is not a fundraiser. It is our National Conference which is a Continuing Legal Education Seminar (up to 7 CLE Units, depending on state.) There is a cost for lawyers to attend but again that is to pay for the seminar.

We are a 527.

Let me know if you have any other questions,

WASHINGTON

February 27, 2003

Dear Senator Frist, Senator Daschle, Senator Hatch, and Senator Leahy:

I write in connection with the nomination of Miguel Estrada. Some Democrat Senators have indicated that they would like to know more about Mr. Estrada's record before a vote occurs. As I stated in my letter of February 12 to Senator Daschle and Senator Leahy, we believe that the Senate has had sufficient time and possesses sufficient information to vote on Miguel Estrada. More important, a majority of Senators have indicated that they possess sufficient information and would vote to confirm him.

But if some Senators believe they must have more information before they will end the filibuster of this nomination, we respectfully suggest that there are three different and important sources of information that have been and remain available and that would appropriately accommodate the request for additional information. We ask that you encourage interested Senators to avail themselves of these sources as soon as possible.

First, as I have written to you previously, individual Senators who wish to meet with Miguel Estrada may and should do so immediately. We continue to believe that such meetings could be very useful to Senators who wish to learn more about Mr. Estrada's record and character.

Second, Senators who have additional questions for Mr. Estrada should immediately pose such questions in writing to him. We propose that additional questions (in a reasonable number) be submitted in writing to Mr. Estrada by Friday, February 28. Mr. Estrada would endeavor to answer such questions in writing by Tuesday, March 4. He would answer the questions forthrightly, appropriately, and in a manner consistent with the traditional practice and obligations of judicial nominees, as he has before.

Third, Senators who wish to know more about Mr. Estrada's performance and approach when working in the United States Government -- and, in particular, how that relates to his possible future performance as a Circuit Judge -- should immediately ask in writing for the views of the Solicitors General, United States Attorney, and Judges for whom Mr. Estrada worked and ask them to respond by Tuesday, March 4. In particular, interested Senators could immediately send a joint letter to each of the following individuals for whom Mr. Estrada has worked in the United States Government: Judge Amalya Kearse, Justice Anthony Kennedy, former United States Attorney Otto Obermaier, former Solicitor General Ken Starr, former Solicitor General Drew Days, former Solicitor General Walter Dellinger, and former Solicitor General Seth Waxman. In our judgment, these men and women could provide their views on Mr. Estrada's background and suitability to be a Circuit Judge by March 4 without sacrificing the integrity of the decisionmaking processes of the Judiciary, United States Attorney's office, and Solicitor General's office. And their views could assist Senators who seek more information about Mr. Estrada.

We believe that these sources of information, which have been available for some time, would readily accommodate the desire for additional information expressed by some Senators who have thus far supported the filibuster of a vote on this nominee. We ask that you encourage Senators who have objected to the scheduling of a vote to avail themselves of these sources of information. And we respectfully ask that the Senate vote up or down as soon as possible on Mr. Estrada's nomination, which has been pending for nearly two years.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 24, 2003

Dear Senator Schumer:

Based on your public comments yesterday, I am concerned that you may have inaccurate and incomplete information about Miguel Estrada's qualifications and about the historical practice with respect to judicial confirmations. Therefore, I write to respectfully reiterate and explain our conclusion that you and certain other Senators are applying an unfair double standard -- indeed, a series of unfair double standards -- to Miguel Estrada.

First, your request for confidential attorney-client memoranda Mr. Estrada wrote in the Office of Solicitor General seeks information that, based on our review, has not been demanded from past nominees to the federal courts of appeals. We are informed that the Senate has not requested memoranda such as these for any of the 67 appeals court nominees since 1977 who had previously worked in the Justice Department -- including the seven nominees who had previously worked in the Solicitor General's office. Nor have such memoranda been demanded from nominees in similar attorney-client situations: The Senate has not demanded confidential memoranda written by judicial nominees who had served as Senate lawyers, such as memoranda written by Stephen Breyer as a Senate counsel before Justice Breyer was confirmed to the First Circuit in 1980. Nor has the Senate demanded confidential memoranda written by judicial nominees who had served as law clerks to Supreme Court Justices or other federal or state judges. Nor has the Senate demanded confidential memoranda written by judicial nominees who had worked for private clients.

The very few isolated examples you have cited were not nominees for federal appeals courts. Moreover, those situations involved Executive Branch accommodations of targeted requests for particular documents about specific issues that were primarily related to allegations of malfeasance or misconduct in a federal office. We respectfully do not believe these examples support your request. Our conclusion about the general lack of support and precedent for your position is buttressed by the fact that every living former Solicitor General (four Democrats and three Republicans) has strongly opposed your request and stated that it would sacrifice and compromise the ability of the Justice Department to effectively represent the United States in court. In short, the traditional practice of the Senate and the Executive Branch with respect to federal appeals court nominations stands in contrast to your request here and supports our conclusion that an unfair double standard is being applied to Miguel Estrada. (Also, contrary to your suggestion yesterday, please note that no one in the Executive Branch has reviewed these memoranda since President Bush took office in January 2001.)

Second, you suggested that "no judicial nominee that I'm aware of, for such a high court, has ever had so little of a record." I respectfully disagree. Miguel Estrada has been a very accomplished lawyer, trying cases before federal juries, briefing and arguing numerous appeals before federal and state appeals courts, and arguing 15 cases before the Supreme Court, among his other significant work. His record and breadth of experience exceeds that of many judicial nominees, which is no doubt why the American Bar Association -- which you have labeled the “gold standard” -- unanimously rated him “well-qualified.” In noting yesterday that Mr. Estrada’s career had been devoted to “arguing for a client,” you appeared to imply that only those with prior judicial service (or perhaps “a lot of [law review] articles”) may serve on the federal appeals courts. But five of the eight judges currently serving on the D.C. Circuit had no prior judicial service at the time of their appointments. Indeed, Supreme Court Justices Rehnquist, White, and Powell -- to name three of the most recent -- had not served as judges before being confirmed to the Supreme Court. And like Mr. Estrada, two appointees of President Clinton to the D.C. Circuit (Judge David Tatel and Judge Merrick Garland) had similarly spent their careers “arguing for a client,” but were nonetheless confirmed.

As the Chief Justice noted in his 2001 Year-End Report, moreover, “[t]he federal Judiciary has traditionally drawn from a wide diversity of professional backgrounds.” The Chief Justice cited Justice Louis Brandeis, Justice John Harlan, Justice Byron White, Judge Thurgood Marshall (as nominee to the Second Circuit), Judge Learned Hand, and Judge John Minor Wisdom as just a few examples of great judges who had spent virtually their entire careers “arguing for a client” before becoming Supreme Court Justices or federal appeals court judges. As these examples show, had the “arguing for a client” standard been applied in the past, it would have deprived the American people of many of our most notable appellate judges. Based on our understanding, this standard has not been applied in the past. This further explains why we have concluded that an unfair double standard is being applied to Miguel Estrada.

Third, you stated that “when you went to those hearings, Mr. Estrada answered no questions.” The record demonstrates otherwise. Mr. Estrada answered more than 100 questions at his hearing (and another 25 in follow-up written answers). He explained in some detail his approach to judging on many issues, and did so appropriately without providing his personal views on specific legal or policy questions that could come before him – which is how previous judicial nominees of Presidents of both parties have appropriately answered questions. Indeed, at his hearing, Mr. Estrada was asked and answered more questions, and did so more fully, than did President Clinton’s appointees to this same court. Judge David Tatel was asked a total of three questions at his hearing. Judges Judith Rogers and Merrick Garland were each asked fewer than 20 questions. The three appointees of President Clinton – combined – thus answered fewer than half the number of questions at their hearings that Mr. Estrada answered at his hearing. What is more, like Mr. Estrada, both Judge Rogers and Judge Garland declined to give their personal views on disputed legal and policy questions at the hearing. Judge Rogers refused to give her views when asked about the notion of an evolving Constitution. And Mr. Garland did not answer questions about his personal views on the death penalty, stating that he would follow precedent. In short, we believe that your criticism of Mr. Estrada’s answers at his hearing reveals that another unfair double standard is being applied to Mr. Estrada.

Fourth, you stated that the Founding Fathers “came to the conclusion that the Senate ought to ask a whole lot of questions” of judicial nominees. We respect the Senate’s constitutional role in the confirmation process, and we agree that the Senate should make an informed judgment consistent with its traditional role and practices. But your characterization of the Senate’s role with respect to judicial nominations is not consistent with our reading of historical or traditional practice. Alexander Hamilton explained that the purpose of Senate confirmation is to prevent appointment of “unfit characters from State prejudice, from family connection, from personal attachment, or from a view to popularity.” The Federalist 76. The Framers anticipated that the Senate’s approval would not often be refused unless there were “special and strong reasons for the refusal.” Id. Moreover, the Senate did not hold hearings on judicial nominees for much of American history, and the hearings for lower-court nominees in modern times traditionally have not included the examination of personal views that you have advocated. (My letter of February 12, 2003, to Senators Daschle and Leahy contains more detail on this point.) Indeed, just a few years ago, Senator Biden made clear, consistent with the traditional practice, that he would vote to confirm an appeals court judge if he were convinced that the nominee would follow precedent and otherwise was of high ability and integrity.

In short, it appears that you are seeking to change the Senate’s traditional standard for assessing judicial nominees. We respect your right to advocate a change, but we do not believe that the standard you seek to apply is consistent with the Framers’ vision, the traditional Senate practice, or the Senate’s treatment of President Clinton’s nominees. Rather, we believe a new standard is being devised and applied to Miguel Estrada.

Fifth, you stated yesterday that a “filibuster” is not an appropriate term to describe what has been occurring in the Senate. We respectfully disagree. Democrat Senators have objected to unanimous consent motions to schedule a vote, and they have indicated that they will continue to do so. That tactic is historically and commonly known as a filibuster, and is a dramatic escalation of the tactics used to oppose judicial nominees. Indeed, in 1998, Senator Leahy stated: “I have stated over and over again on this floor that I would refuse to put an anonymous hold on any judge; that I would object and fight against any filibuster on a judge, whether it is somebody I opposed or supported; that I felt the Senate should do its duty. If we don’t like somebody the President nominates, vote him or her down. But don’t hold them in this anonymous unconscionable limbo, because in doing that, the minority of Senators really shame all Senators.” 144 Cong. Rec. S6522 (June 18, 1998). In our judgment, the tactics now being employed again show that Miguel Estrada is receiving differential treatment.

As I have said before, I appreciate and respect the Senate’s constitutional role in the confirmation process. You have expressed concern that you do not know enough about Mr. Estrada’s views, but you have not submitted any follow-up questions to him. We respectfully submit that the Senate has ample information and has had more than enough time to consider questions about the qualifications and suitability of a nominee submitted more than 21 months ago. Most important, we believe that a majority of Senators have now concluded that they possess sufficient information on Mr. Estrada and would vote to confirm him. We believe it is past time for the Senate to vote on this nominee, and we urge your support.

Sincerely,

/s/

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 12, 2003

Dear Senator Daschle and Senator Leahy:

On behalf of President Bush, I write in response to your letter to the President dated February 11, 2003. In the letter, you renew your previous request for confidential Department of Justice memoranda in which Mr. Estrada provided appeal, certiorari, and amicus recommendations while he was a career attorney in the Office of Solicitor General for four years in the Clinton Administration and one year in the George H.W. Bush Administration. You also request that Mr. Estrada answer certain questions beyond the extensive questions that he already answered appropriately and forthrightly during his Committee hearing and in follow-up written responses.

We respect the Senate's constitutional role in the confirmation process, and we agree that the Senate must make an informed judgment consistent with its traditional role and practices. However, your requests have no persuasive support in the history and precedent of judicial appointments. Indeed, the relevant history and precedent convincingly demonstrate that a new and shifting standard is being applied to Miguel Estrada.

First, as the Department of Justice explained in its letters of June 5, 2002, October 8, 2002, and January 23, 2003, all living former Solicitors General (four Democrats and three Republicans) have strongly opposed your request for Solicitor General memoranda and stated that it would sacrifice and compromise the ability of the Justice Department to effectively represent the United States in court. Even more telling, we are informed that the Senate has not requested memos such as these for any of the 67 appeals court nominees since 1977 who had previously worked in the Justice Department (including the seven nominees who had previously worked in the Solicitor General's office). The few isolated examples you have cited – in which targeted requests for particular documents about specific issues were accommodated for nominees to positions other than the U.S. Courts of Appeals – similarly do not support your request here.

Second, as explained more fully below with respect to your request that Mr. Estrada answer additional questions, the only specific question identified in your letter refers to his judicial role models. You claim that Mr. Estrada refused to answer a question on this topic. In fact, in his written responses to Senator Durbin's question on this precise subject that Mr. Estrada submitted three months ago, he cited Justice Anthony Kennedy, Justice Lewis Powell, and Judge Amalya Kearshe as judges he admires (he clerked for Justice Kennedy and Judge Kearshe), and he further pointed out, of course, that he would seek to resolve cases as he analyzed them "without any preconception about how some other judge might approach the question." Your letter to the President ignores Mr. Estrada's answer to this question. In any event, beyond this one query, your letter does not pose any additional questions to him. Additionally, neither of you has posed any written questions to Mr. Estrada in the more than three months since his all-day Committee hearing. Since the hearing, Mr. Estrada also has met (and continues to meet) with numerous Democrat Senators interested in learning more about his record. Finally, as I will explain below, Mr. Estrada forthrightly answered numerous questions about his judicial approach and views in a manner that matches or greatly exceeds answers demanded of previous appeals court nominees.

With respect, it appears that a double standard is being applied to Miguel Estrada. That is highly unfair and inappropriate, particularly for this well-qualified and well-respected nominee.

I will turn now in more detail to the various issues raised by your letter. I will address them at some length given the importance of this issue and the nature of your requests.

I. Miguel Estrada's Qualifications and Bipartisan Support

Miguel Estrada is an extraordinarily qualified judicial nominee. The American Bar Association, which Senators Leahy and Schumer have referred to as the "gold standard," unanimously rated Estrada "well qualified" for the D.C. Circuit, the ABA's highest possible rating. The ABA rating was entirely appropriate in light of Mr. Estrada's superb record as Assistant to the Solicitor General in the Clinton and George H.W. Bush Administrations, as a federal prosecutor in New York, as a law clerk to Justice Kennedy, and in performing significant pro bono work.

Some who are misinformed have seized on Mr. Estrada's lack of prior judicial experience, but five of the eight judges currently serving on the D.C. Circuit had no prior judicial experience, including two appointees of President Clinton and one appointee of President Carter. Miguel Estrada has tried numerous cases before federal juries, argued many cases in the federal appeals courts, and argued 15 cases before the Supreme Court of the United States. That is a record that few judicial nominees can match. And few lawyers, whatever their ideology or philosophy, have volunteered to represent a death row inmate pro bono before the Supreme Court as did Miguel Estrada.

Mr. Estrada's excellent legal qualifications are all the more extraordinary given his personal history. Simply put, Miguel Estrada is an American success story. He came to this country at age 17 from Honduras speaking little English. Through hard work and dedicated service to the United States, Miguel Estrada has risen to the very pinnacle of the legal profession. If confirmed, he would be the first Hispanic judge to sit on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit. Given his record, his background, and his integrity, it is no surprise that Miguel Estrada is strongly supported by the vast majority of national Hispanic organizations. The League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), for example, wrote to Senator Leahy to urge Mr. Estrada's confirmation and explain that he "is truly one of the rising stars in the Hispanic community and a role model for our youth." A group of 19 Hispanic organizations, including LULAC and the Hispanic National Bar Association, recently wrote to the Senate urging "on behalf of an overwhelming majority of Hispanics in this country" that "both parties in the U.S. Senate . . . put partisan politics aside so that Hispanics are no longer denied representation in one of the most prestigious courts in the land."

The current effort to filibuster Mr. Estrada's nomination is particularly unjustified given that those who have worked with Miguel -- including prominent Democrat lawyers whom you know well -- strongly support his confirmation. For example, Ron Klain, who served as a high-ranking adviser to former Vice President Gore and former Chief Counsel to the Senate Judiciary Committee, wrote: "Miguel is a person of outstanding character, tremendous intellect, and with a deep commitment to the faithful application of precedent. . . . [T]he challenges that he has overcome in his life have made him genuinely compassionate, genuinely concerned for others, and genuinely devoted to helping those in need."

President Clinton's Solicitor General, Seth Waxman, wrote: "During the time Mr. Estrada and I worked together, he was a model of professionalism and competence. . . . In no way did I ever discern that the recommendations Mr. Estrada made or the analyses he propounded were colored in any way by his personal views -- or indeed that they reflected any consideration other than the long-term interests of the United States. I have great respect both for Mr. Estrada's intellect and for his integrity."

A bipartisan group of 14 former colleagues in the Office of the Solicitor General at the U.S. Department of Justice wrote: "We hold varying ideological views and affiliations that range across the political spectrum, but we are unanimous in our conviction that Miguel would be a fair and honest judge who would decide cases in accordance with the applicable legal principles and precedents, not on the basis of personal preferences or political viewpoints." One former colleague, Richard Seamon, wrote that he is a pro-choice, lifelong Democrat with self-described "liberal views on most issues" who said he would "consider it a disgrace" if Mr. Estrada is not confirmed.

Similarly, Leonard Joy, head of the Federal Defender Division of the Legal Aid Society of New York, wrote that "Miguel would make an excellent Circuit Court Judge. He is as fine a lawyer as I have met and, on top of all his intellectual abilities and judgment he would bring to bear, he would bring a desirable diversity to the Court. I heartily recommend him."

Beyond the extensive personal testimony from those who worked side-by-side with him for many years, the performance reviews of Miguel for the years that he worked in the Office of Solicitor General gave him the highest possible rating of "outstanding" in every possible category. The reviews stated that Miguel:

- "states the operative facts and applicable law completely and persuasively, with record citations, and in conformance with court and office rules, and with concern for fairness, clarity, simplicity, and conciseness."
- "[i]s extremely knowledgeable of resource materials and uses them expertly; acting independently, goes directly to point of the matter and gives reliable, accurate, responsive information in communicating position to others."
- "[a]ll dealings, oral and written, with the courts, clients, and others are conducted in a diplomatic, cooperative, and candid manner."
- "[a]ll briefs, motions or memoranda reviewed consistently reflect no policies at variance with Departmental or Governmental policies, or fails to discuss and analyze relevant authorities."
- "[i]s constantly sought for advice and counsel. Inspires co-workers by example."

In the two years that Miguel Estrada and Paul Bender worked together, Mr. Bender signed those reviews. These employment reviews thus call into serious question some press reports containing a negative comment from Mr. Bender about Mr. Estrada's temperament (which is the only negative comment made by anyone who actually knows Mr. Estrada). Just as important, President Clinton's Solicitor General Seth Waxman expressly refuted Mr. Bender's statement.

In sum, based on his experience, his intellect, his integrity, and his bipartisan support, Miguel Estrada should be confirmed promptly.

II. The Senate's Role

President Bush nominated Miguel Estrada nearly two years ago on May 9, 2001. As explained above, he is well-qualified and well-respected. By any traditional measure that the Senate has used to evaluate appeals court nominees, Miguel Estrada should have been confirmed long ago. Your letter and public statements indicate, however, that you are applying both a new standard and new tactics to this particular nominee.

As to the standard, the Senate has a very important role in the process, but the Senate's traditional approach to appeals court nominees, and the approach envisioned by the Constitution's Framers, is far different from the standard that you now seek to apply. Senator Biden stated the traditional approach in 1997: "Any person who is nominated for the district or circuit court who, in fact, any Senator believes will be a person of their word and follow stare decisis, it does not matter to me what their ideology is, as long as they are in a position where they are in the general mainstream of American political life, and they have not committed crimes of moral turpitude, and have not, in fact, acted in a way that would shed a negative light on the court." Congressional Record, March 19, 1997. Alexander Hamilton explained that the purpose of Senate confirmation is to prevent appointment of "unfit characters from State prejudice, from family connection, from personal attachment, or from a view to popularity." Federalist No. 76. It was anticipated that the Senate's approval would not often be refused unless there were "special and strong reasons for the refusal." No. 76.

As to tactics, you have indicated that some Senate Democrats intend to filibuster to prevent a vote on this nominee. As you know, there has never been a successful filibuster of a court of appeals nominee. Only a few years ago, Senator Leahy and other Democrat Senators expressly agreed with then-Governor Bush that every judicial nominee was entitled to an up-or-down floor vote within a reasonable time. On October 3, 2000, for example, Senator Leahy stated:

Governor Bush and I, while we disagree on some issues, have one very significant issue on which we agree. He gave a speech a while back and criticized what has happened in the Senate where confirmations are held up not because somebody votes down a nominee but because they cannot ever get a vote. Governor Bush said: You have the nominee. Hold the hearing. Then, within 60 days, vote them up or vote them down. Don't leave them in limbo. Frankly, that is what we are paid to do in this body. We are paid to vote either yes or no – not vote maybe. When we hold a nominee up by not allowing them a vote and not taking any action one way or the other, we are not only voting ‘maybe,’ but we are doing a terrible disservice to the man or woman to whom we do this.

Senator Daschle similarly stated on October 5, 1999, that “[t]he Senate is surely under no obligation to confirm any particular nominee, but after the necessary time for inquiry it should vote him up or vote him down. An up or down vote, that is all we seek for Berzon and Paez. And after years of waiting, they deserve at least that much.”

In his East Room speech of October 30, 2002, President Bush reiterated that every judicial nominee deserves a timely up-or-down floor vote in the Senate, no matter who is President or which party controls the Senate. Contrary to President Bush’s attempts at permanent reform to bring order to the process, your current effort to employ a filibuster and block an up-or-down vote on the Estrada nomination may significantly exacerbate the cycle of bitterness and recrimination that President Bush has sought to resolve on a bipartisan basis. We fear that the damage caused by a filibuster could take many years to undo. To continue on this path would also be, in Senator Leahy’s words, “a terrible disservice” to Mr. Estrada. We urge you to reconsider this extraordinary action, to end the filibuster of Mr. Estrada’s nomination, and to allow the full Senate to vote up or down.

III. Request for Confidential Solicitor General Memos

You have suggested that Mr. Estrada’s background, experience, and support are insufficient to assess his suitability for the D.C. Circuit. You have renewed your request for Solicitor General memos authored by Mr. Estrada. But every living former Solicitor General signed a joint letter to the Senate opposing your request. The letter was signed by Democrats Archibald Cox, Walter Dellinger, Drew Days, and Seth Waxman. They stated: “Any attempt to intrude into the Office’s highly privileged deliberations would come at the cost of the Solicitor General’s ability to defend vigorously the United States’ litigation interests – a cost that also would be borne by Congress itself. . . . Although we profoundly respect the Senate’s duty to evaluate Mr. Estrada’s fitness for the federal judiciary, we do not think that the confidentiality and integrity of internal deliberations should be sacrificed in the process.”

It bears mention that the interest asserted here is that of the United States, not the personal interest of Mr. Estrada. Indeed, Mr. Estrada himself testified that “I have not opposed the release of those records. . . . I am exceptionally proud of every piece of legal work that I have done in my life. If it were up to me as a private citizen, I would be more than proud to have you look at everything that I have done for the government or for a private client.”

The history of Senate confirmations of nominees who had previously worked in the Department of Justice makes clear that an unfair double standard is being applied to Miguel Estrada’s nomination. Since the beginning of the Carter Administration in 1977, the Senate has approved 67 United States Court of Appeals nominees who previously had worked in the Department of Justice. Of those 67 nominees, 38 had no prior judicial experience, like Miguel Estrada. The Department of Justice’s review of those nomination records disclosed that in none of those cases did the Department of Justice produce internal deliberative materials created by the Department. In fact, the Department's review disclosed that the Senate did not even request such materials for a single one of these 67 nominees.

Of this group of 67 nominees, seven were nominees who had worked as a Deputy Solicitor General or Assistant to the Solicitor General. These seven nominees, nominated by Presidents of each party and confirmed by Senates controlled by each party, included Samuel Alito, Danny Boggs, William Bryson, Frank Easterbrook, Daniel Friedman, Richard Posner, and Raymond Randolph.

The five isolated historical examples you have cited do not support your current request. In each of those five cases, the Committee made a targeted request for specific information primarily related to allegations of misconduct or malfeasance identified by the Committee. Even in those isolated cases, the vast majority of deliberative memoranda written by those nominees were neither requested nor produced. With respect to Judge Bork's nomination, for example, the Committee received access to certain particular memoranda (many related to Judge Bork's involvement in Watergate-related issues). The vast majority of memoranda authored by Judge Bork were never received. With respect to Judge Trott, the Committee requested documents unrelated to Judge Trott's service to the Department. So, too, in the three other examples you cite, the Committee requested specific documents primarily related to allegations of misconduct or malfeasance identified by the Committee. Of course, no such allegations have been made in the case of Mr. Estrada.

In sum, the examples you have cited only highlight the lack of precedent for the current request. As the Justice Department has explained to you previously, the existence of a few isolated examples where the Executive Branch on occasion accommodated a Committee's targeted requests for very specific information primarily related to allegations of misconduct does not in any way alter the fundamental and long-standing principle that memos from the Office of Solicitor General – and deliberative Department of Justice memoranda more broadly – must remain protected in the confirmation context so as to maintain the integrity of the Executive Branch's decisionmaking process. That is a fundamental principle that has been followed irrespective of the party that controls the White House and the Senate.

Your continued requests for these memoranda have provoked a foreseeable and inevitable conflict that, in turn, has been cited as a basis for obstructing a vote on Mr. Estrada's nomination. Respectfully, the conflict is unnecessary because your desire to assess the nominee can be readily accommodated in many ways other than intruding into and severely damaging the deliberative process of the Office of Solicitor General. For example, you can review Mr. Estrada's written briefs and oral arguments both as an attorney for the United States and in private practice. As you know, those documents are publicly available and easily accessible; that said, we would be pleased to facilitate your access to them. (Mr. Estrada's hearing transcript suggests that no Democrat Member of the Committee had read Mr. Estrada's many dozens of Solicitor General merits briefs, certiorari petitions, and opposition briefs or the transcripts of his 14 oral arguments when he represented the United States.) You also may consider the opinions of others who served in the Office at the same time (discussed above) and examine the nominee's written performance reviews (also discussed above). There is more than ample information for you to assess Mr. Estrada's qualifications and suitability for the D.C. Circuit based on the traditional standards the Senate has employed.

It also is important to recognize that political appointees of President Clinton have read virtually all of the memoranda in question – namely, the Democrat Solicitors General Drew Days, Walter Dellinger, and Seth Waxman. None of those three highly respected Democrat lawyers has expressed any concern whatever about Mr. Estrada's nomination. Indeed, Mr. Waxman wrote a letter of strong support, and Mr. Days made public statements in support of Mr. Estrada.

In sum, the historical record and past precedent convincingly demonstrate that this request creates and applies an unfair double standard to Miguel Estrada.

IV. Request that Miguel Estrada Answer Additional Questions

Your letter also suggests that Miguel Estrada should answer certain questions that he allegedly did not answer in his hearing. To begin with, we do not know what your specific questions are. In addition, this request frankly comes as a surprise given that (i) Senator Schumer chaired the hearing on Mr. Estrada, (ii) the hearing lasted an entire day, (iii) Senators at the all-day hearing asked numerous far-reaching questions that Mr. Estrada answered forthrightly and appropriately, and (iv) only two of the 10 Democrat Senators then on the Committee even submitted any follow-up written questions, and they submitted only a few questions (in marked contrast to other nominees who received voluminous follow-up questions).

It also bears mention that Mr. Estrada has personally met with a large number of Democrat Senators, including Senators Landrieu, Lincoln, Bill Nelson, Ben Nelson, Leahy, Feinstein, Kohl, and Breaux; is scheduled to meet with Senator Carper; and would be pleased to meet with additional Senators.

The only specific question your letter identifies refers to Mr. Estrada's judicial role models, and you claim that he refused to answer a question on this topic. In fact, in Mr. Estrada's written responses to Senator Durbin's question on this precise subject, Mr. Estrada cited Justice Anthony Kennedy, Justice Lewis Powell, and Judge Amalya Kearse as judges he admires, and he further pointed out, of course, that he would seek to resolve cases as he analyzed them "without any preconception about how some other judge might approach the question."

In our judgment, moreover, Mr. Estrada answered the Committee's questions in a manner that was both entirely appropriate and entirely consistent with the approach that judicial nominees of Presidents of both parties have taken for many years. Your suggestions to the contrary do not square with the hearing record or traditional practice.

A. Judicial Ethics and Traditional Practice

In assessing your request that Miguel Estrada did not answer appropriate questions, we begin with rules of judicial ethics that govern prospective nominees. Canon 5A(3)(d) provides that prospective judges "shall not . . . make statements that commit or appear to commit the candidate with respect to cases, controversies or issues that are likely to come before the court"

(emphasis added). Justice Thurgood Marshall made the point well in 1967 when asked about the Fifth Amendment: “I do not think you want me to be in a position of giving you a statement on the Fifth Amendment and then, if I am confirmed and sit on the Court, when a Fifth Amendment case comes up, I will have to disqualify myself.” Lloyd Cutler, who served as Counsel to President Carter and President Clinton, has stated that “candidates should decline to reply when efforts are made to find out how they would decide a particular case.”

In 1968, in the context of the Justice Abe Fortas’ nomination to be Chief Justice, the Senate Judiciary Committee similarly stated: “Although recognizing the constitutional dilemma which appears to exist when the Senate is asked to advise and consent on a judicial nominee without examining him on legal questions, the Committee is of the view that Justice Fortas wisely and correctly declined to answer questions in this area. To require a Justice to state his views on legal questions or to discuss his past decisions before the Committee would threaten the independence of the judiciary and the integrity of the judicial system itself. It would also impinge on the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers among the three branches of Government as required by the Constitution.” S. Exec. Rep. No. 8, 90th Cong. 2d Sess. 5 (1968).

Even in the context of a Supreme Court confirmation hearing, Senator Kennedy defended Sandra Day O’Connor’s refusal to discuss her views on abortion: “It is offensive to suggest that a potential Justice of the Supreme Court must pass some presumed test of judicial philosophy. It is even more offensive to suggest that a potential justice must pass the litmus test of any single-issue interest group.” Nomination of Sandra O’Connor: Hearings Before the Senate Comm. on the Judiciary on the Nomination of Judge Sandra Day O’Connor of Arizona to Serve as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, 97th Cong. 6 (1981) (statement of Sen. Kennedy).

Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg likewise declined to answer certain questions: “Because I am and hope to continue to be a judge, it would be wrong for me to say or to preview in this legislative chamber how I would cast my vote on questions the Supreme Court may be called upon to decide. Were I to rehearse here what I would say and how I would reason on such questions, I would act injudiciously.” Similarly, Justice John Paul Stevens stated in his hearing: “I really don’t think I should discuss this subject generally, Senator. I don’t mean to be unresponsive but in all candor I must say that there have been many times in my experience in the last five years where I found that my first reaction to a problem was not the same as the reaction I had when I had the responsibility of decisions and I think that if I were to make comments that were not carefully thought through they might be given significance that they really did not merit.”

Justice Ginsburg described the traditional practice in a case decided last year: “In the context of the federal system, how a prospective nominee for the bench would resolve particular contentious issues would certainly be ‘on interest’ to the President and the Senate . . . . But in accord with a longstanding norm, every Member of this Court declined to furnish such information to the Senate, and presumably to the President as well.” Republican Party of Minnesota v. White, 122 S. Ct. 2528, 2552 n.1 (2002) (Ginsburg, J., dissenting) (emphasis added). Justice Ginsburg added that this adherence to this “longstanding norm” was “crucial to the health of the Federal Judiciary.” Id. In his majority opinion, Justice Scalia did not take issue with that description and added: “Nor do we assert that candidates for judicial office should be compelled to announce their views on disputed legal issues.” Id. at 2539 n.11 (emphasis in original).

In some recent hearings, including Mr. Estrada’s, Senator Schumer has asked that nominees identify particular Supreme Court cases of the last few decades with which they disagree. But the problems with such a question and answer were well stated by Justice Stephen Breyer. As Justice Breyer put it, “Until [an issue] comes up, I don’t really think it through with the depth that it would require. . . . So often, when you decide a matter for real, in a court or elsewhere, it turns out to be very different after you’ve become informed and think it through for real than what you would have said at a cocktail party answering a question.” 34 U.C. Davis L. Rev. 425, 462.

Senator Schumer also has asked nominees how they would have ruled in particular Supreme Court cases. Again, a double standard is being applied. The nominees of President Clinton did not answer such questions. For example, Richard Tallman, a nominee with no prior judicial service who would now serve on the Ninth Circuit, not only would not answer how he would have ruled as a judge in Roe v. Wade – but even how he would have ruled in Plessy v. Ferguson, the infamous case that upheld the discredited and shameful “separate but equal” doctrine. So, too, in the hearing on President Clinton’s nomination of Judges Barry and Fisher, Senator Smith asked whether the nominees would have voted for a constitutional right to abortion before Roe v. Wade. Chairman Hatch interrupted Senator Smith to say “that is not a fair question to these two nominees because regardless of what happened pre-1973, they have to abide by what has happened post-1973 and the current precedents that the Supreme Court has.”

B. Answers by Miguel Estrada

Miguel Estrada answered the Committee’s questions forthrightly and appropriately. Indeed, Miguel Estrada was more expansive than many judicial nominees traditionally have been in Senate hearings, and he was asked a far *broad*er range of questions than many previous appeals court nominees were asked. We will catalogue here a select sample of his answers.

Unenumerated rights, privacy, and abortion

When asked by Senator Edwards about the Constitution’s protection for rights not enumerated in the Constitution, Mr. Estrada replied: “I recognize that the Supreme Court has said [on] numerous occasions in the area of privacy and elsewhere that there are unenumerated rights in the Constitution, and I have no view of any sort, whether legal or personal, that would hinder me from applying those rulings by the court. But I think the court has been quite clear that there are a number of unenumerated rights in the Constitution. In the main, the court has recognized them as being inherent in the right of substantive due process and the liberty clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.”

When asked by Senator Feinstein whether the Constitution encompasses a right to privacy and abortion, Mr. Estrada responded, “The Supreme Court has so held, and I have no view of any nature whatsoever, whether it be legal, philosophical, moral, or any other type of view that would keep me from applying that case law faithfully.” When asked whether Roe v. Wade was “settled law,” Mr. Estrada replied, “I believe so.”

General Approach to Judging

When asked by Senator Edwards about judicial review, Mr. Estrada explained: “Courts take the laws that have been passed by you and give you the benefit of understanding that you take the same oath that they do to uphold the Constitution, and therefore they take the laws with the presumption that they are constitutional. It is the affirmative burden of the plaintiff to show that you have gone beyond your oath. If they come into court, then it is appropriate for courts to undertake to listen to the legal arguments – why it is that the legislature went beyond [its] role as a legislat[ure] and invaded the Constitution.”

Mr. Estrada stated to Senator Edwards that there are 200 years of Supreme Court precedent and that it is not the case that “the appropriate conduct for courts is to be guided solely by the bare text of the Constitution because that is not the legal system that we have.”

When asked by Senator Edwards whether he was a strict constructionist, Mr. Estrada replied that he was “a fair constructionist” – meaning that “I don’t think that it should be the goal of courts to be strict or lax. The goal of courts is to get it right. . . . It is not necessarily the case in my mind that, for example, all parts of the Constitution are suitable for the same type of interpretative analysis. . . . [T]he Constitution says, for example, that you must be 35 years old to be our chief executive. . . . There are areas of the Constitution that are more open-ended. And you adverted to one, like the substantive component of the due process clauses, where there are other methods of interpretation that are not quite so obvious that the court has brought to bear to try to bring forth what the appropriate answer should be.”

When Senator Kohl asked him about environmental statutes, for example, Mr. Estrada explained that those statutes come to court “with a strong presumption of constitutionality.”

In response to Senator Leahy, Mr. Estrada described the most important attributes of a judge: “The most important quality for a judge, in my view Senator Leahy, is to have an appropriate process for decisionmaking. That entails having an open mind. It entails listening to the parties, reading their briefs, going back beyond those briefs and doing all of the legwork needed to ascertain who is right in his or her claims as to what the law says and what the facts [are]. In a court of appeals court, where judges sit in panels of three, it is important to engage in deliberation and give ear to the views of colleagues who may have come to different conclusions. And in sum, to be committed to judging as a process that is intended to give us the right answer, not to a result. And I can give you my level best solemn assurance that I firmly think I do have those qualities or else I would not have accepted the nomination.”

In response to Senator Durbin, Miguel Estrada stated that “the Constitution, like other legal texts, should be construed reasonably and fairly, to give effect to all that its text contains.”

Mr. Estrada indicated to Senator Durbin that he admired the judges for whom he clerked, Justice Kennedy and Judge Kears, as well as Justice Lewis Powell.

Mr. Estrada stated to Senator Durbin that “I can absolutely assure the Committee that I will follow binding Supreme Court precedent until and unless such precedent has been displaced by subsequent decisions of the Supreme Court itself.”

In response to Senator Grassley, Mr. Estrada stated: “When facing a problems for which there is a not a decisive precedent from a higher court, my cardinal rule would be to seize aid from anyplace where I could get it. Depending on the nature of the problem, that would include related case law in other areas that higher courts had dealt with that had had some insights to teach with respect to the problem at hand. It could include the history of the enactment, including in the case of a statute legislative history. It could include the custom and practice under any predecessor statute or document. It could include the views of academics to the extent that they purport to analyze what the law is instead of – instead of prescribing what it should be. And in sum, as Chief Justice Marshall once said, to attempt not to overlook anything from which aid might be derived.”

In response to Senator Sessions, Estrada stated: “I am very firmly of the view that although we all have views on a number of subjects from A to Z, the first duty of a judge is to self-consciously put that aside and look at each case by starting withholding judgment with an open mind and listen to the parties. So I think that the job of a judge is to put all of that aside, and to the best of his human capacity to give a judgment based solely on the arguments and the law.”

In response to Senator Sessions, Mr. Estrada stated that “I will follow binding case law in every case. . . . I may have a personal, moral, philosophical view on the subject matter. But I undertake to you that I would put all that aside and decide cases in accordance with binding case law and even in accordance with the case law that is not binding but seems constructive on the area, without any influence whatsoever from any personal view I may have about the subject matter.”

Miranda/Stare Decisis

Mr. Estrada stated that United States v. Dickerson – a case raising the question whether Miranda should be overruled – reflected a “reasonable application of the doctrine of stare decisis. In my view, it is rarely appropriate for the Supreme Court to overturn one of its own precedents.”

Affirmative Action

With respect to affirmative action, Mr. Estrada responded to Senator Kennedy that “any policy views I might have as a private citizen on the subject of affirmative action would not enter into how I would approach any case that comes before me as a judge. Under controlling Supreme Court authority, particularly Adarand Constructors, Inc. v. Peña, 515 U.S. 200 (1995), if a government program creates a racial classification, it will be subject to strict scrutiny. Whether the program survives that sort of scrutiny will often involve a highly contextual and fact-specific inquiry into the nature of the justifications asserted by the government and the fit between those justifications and the classification at issue. Adarand and similar cases provide the framework that I would be required to apply, and would apply, in considering these issues as a judge.”

Asked by Senator Leahy about the strict scrutiny test, Mr. Estrada replied, “the Supreme Court in the Adarand case stated, as a general rule, that the consideration of race is subject to strict scrutiny. That means that though it may be used in some cases, it has to be justified by a compelling state interest. And with respect to the particular context, there must be a fairly fact-bound individual assessment of the fit between the interest that is being asserted and the category being used. That is just another way of saying that it is a very fact-intensive analysis in the context of a specific program and in the context of the justifications that are being offered in support of the program.”

Congressional Authority

With respect to the outer limits of Congress’ power to confer authority on other governmental bodies, Miguel responded to Senator Kennedy that the Supreme Court has said that “particular factual context is significant in analyzing the appropriateness of a particular delegation. . . . Of course, the fact that the Supreme Court only rarely has struck down statutes on this ground suggests that the Court has been quite deferential to congressional judgments about the types of delegations that reasonably might be needed to carry on the business of government.”

When Senator Kohl asked Mr. Estrada about the 1995 Lopez case concerning the scope of Congress’ power to regulate, Mr. Estrada pointed out that he had argued in a companion case “for a very expansive view of the power to Congress to pass statutes under the Commerce Clause and have them be upheld by the court. . . . Lopez has given us guidance on when it is appropriate for the court to exercise the commerce power. It is binding law and I would follow it.”

Ethnicity

With respect to the fact that the President had noted Miguel’s ethnicity, Miguel responded to Senator Kennedy: “The President is the leader of a large and diverse country, and it is accordingly appropriate for him, in exercising his constitutional nomination and appointment powers, to select qualified individuals who reflect the breadth and diversity of our Nation.”

With respect to the Democrat Congressional Hispanic Caucus’s criticism of him, Miguel responded to Senator Kennedy that “I strongly disagree, however, with the Congressional Hispanic Caucus’ view that I lack an understanding of the role and importance of courts in protecting the legal rights of minorities, of the values and mores of Latino culture, or the significance of role models for minority communities.”

Racial Discrimination

With respect to race discrimination, Mr. Estrada stated in response to Senator Kennedy: “I take a backseat to no one in my abhorrence of race discrimination in law enforcement or anything else.”

Senator Feingold asked Mr. Estrada whether he believed that racial profiling and racially motivated law enforcement misconduct are problems in this country today. Mr. Estrada replied, “I am – I will once again emphasize I’m unalterably opposed to any sort of race discrimination in law enforcement, Senator, whether it’s called racial profiling or anything else. . . . I know full well that we have real problems with discrimination in our day and age.”

Senator Leahy asked Mr. Estrada about whether statistical evidence of discriminatory impact is relevant in establishing discrimination. Mr. Estrada replied: “I am not a specialist in this area of the law, Senator Leahy, but I am aware that there is a line of cases, beginning with the Supreme Court’s decision in Griggs, that suggests that in appropriate cases that [such evidence] may be appropriate. . . . I do understand that there is a major area of law that deals with how you prove and try disparate-impact cases.”

Congressional Authority to Regulate Firearms

Senator Feinstein asked whether Congress may legislate in the area of dangerous firearms, and Mr. Estrada responded that the Supreme Court had ruled that “if the government were to prove that the firearm had at any time in its lifetime been in interstate commerce even if that had nothing to do with the crime at issue, that that would be an adequate basis for the exercise of Congress’ power.”

Right to Counsel

Senator Edwards asked about Gideon v. Wainwright, the Supreme Court case guaranteeing the right to counsel for poor defendants who could not afford counsel. Although Senator Edwards appeared to question the reasoning in that landmark case, Mr. Estrada responded that “I frankly have always taken it as a given that that’s – the ruling in the case.”

C. Answers by President Clinton’s Nominees

Your criticism of Miguel Estrada’s testimony creates a double standard. You did not require nominees of President Clinton to answer questions of this sort (keeping in mind that you have not identified what your additional questions to Mr. Estrada are). President Clinton’s appeals court nominees routinely testified without discussing their views of specific issues or cases. A few select examples, including of several nominees who had no prior judicial experience, illustrate the point. (Please note that these are isolated examples; there are many more we can provide if necessary.)

Merrick Garland (no prior judicial experience). In the nomination of Merrick Garland to the D.C. Circuit, Senator Specter asked him: “Do you favor, as a personal matter, capital punishment?” Judge Garland replied only that he would follow Supreme Court precedent: “This is really a matter of settled law now. The Court has held that capital punishment is constitutional and lower courts are to follow that rule.” Senator Specter also asked him about his views of the independent counsel statute’s constitutionality, and Judge Garland responded: “Well, that, too, the Supreme Court in Morrison v. Olson upheld as constitutional, and, of course, I would follow that ruling.” Judge Garland did not provide his personal view of either subject.

Judith Rogers. In the hearing on Judge Judith Rogers’ nomination to the D.C. Circuit, Judge Rogers was asked by Senator Cohen about the debate over an evolving Constitution. Judge Rogers responded: “My obligation as an appellate judge is to apply precedent. Some of the debates which I have heard and to which I think you may be alluding are interesting, but as an appellate judge, my obligation is to apply precedent. And so the interpretations of the Constitution by the U.S. Supreme Court would be binding on me.” She then was asked how she would rule in the absence of precedent and responded: “When I was taking my master’s in judicial process at the University of Virginia Law School, one of the points emphasized was the growth of our common law system based on the English common law judge system. And my opinions, I think if you look at them, reflect that where I am presented with a question of first impression, that I look to the language of whatever provision we are addressing, that I look to whatever debates are available, that I look to the interpretations by other Federal courts, that I look to the interpretations of other State courts, and it may be necessary, as well, to look at the interpretations suggested by commentators. And within that framework, which I consider to be a discipline, that I would reach a view in a case of first impression.” Finally, Judge Rogers was asked her view of the three-strikes law and stated: “As an appellate judge, my obligation is to enforce the laws that Congress passes or, where I am now, that the District of Columbia Council passes.” Judge Rogers did not provide her personal view of these subjects.

Marsha Berzon (no prior judicial experience). Senator Smith asked her views on Roe v. Wade and whether “an unborn child is a human being.” Judge Berzon stated: “[M]y role as a judge is not to further anything that I personally believe or don’t believe, and I think that is the strength of our system and the strength of our appellate system. The Supreme Court has been quite definitive quite recently about the applicable standard, and I absolutely pledge to you that I will follow that standard as it exists now, and if it is changed, I will follow that standard. And my personal views in this area, as in any other, will have absolutely no effect.” When Senator Smith probed about their personal views on abortion and Roe v. Wade, Chairman Hatch interrupted: “I don’t know how they can say much more than that at this point in this meeting.”

Richard Tallman (no prior judicial experience). In response to written questions, Judge Tallman explained that “[j]udicial nominees are limited by judicial ethical considerations from answering any question in a manner that would call for an ‘advisory opinion’ as the courts have defined it or that in effect ask a nominee to suggest how he or she would rule on an issue that could foreseeably require his or her attention in a future case or controversy after confirmation.” He was asked how he would have ruled in Plessy v. Ferguson. He stated: “It is entirely conjectural as to what I would have done without having the opportunity to thoroughly review the record presented on appeal, the briefs and arguments of counsel, and supporting legal authorities that were applicable at that time.” He gave the same response when asked how he would have ruled on Roe v. Wade. When asked his personal view on abortion, he wrote: “I hold no personal views that would prevent me from doing my judicial duty to follow the precedent set down by the Supreme Court.” He gave the same answer about the death penalty.

Kim Wardlaw. In the hearing on Judge Kim Wardlaw’s nomination to the Ninth Circuit, Judge Wardlaw was asked about the constitutionality of affirmative action. She stated (in an answer similar to Miguel Estrada’s answer to the same question): “The Supreme Court has held that racial classifications are unconstitutional unless they are narrowly tailored to meet a compelling governmental interest.”

Maryanne Trump Barry. In the hearing on Judge Maryanne Trump Barry’s nomination to the Third Circuit, Senator Smith asked for her personal opinion on whether “an unborn child at any stage of the pregnancy is a human being.” Judge Barry responded: “Casey is the law that I would look at. If I had a personal opinion – and I am not suggesting that I do – it is irrelevant because I must look to the law which binds me.”

Raymond Fisher. In the hearing on Judge Raymond Fisher’s nomination to the Ninth Circuit, Senator Sessions asked Judge Fisher’s own personal views on whether the death penalty was constitutional. Judge Fisher responded that “My view, Senator, is that, as you indicated, the Supreme Court has ruled that the death penalty is constitutional. As a lower appellate court judge, that is the law that I am governed by. I don’t want in my judicial career, should I be fortunate enough to have one, to inject my personal opinions into whether or not I follow the law. I believe that the precedent of the Supreme Court is binding and that is what my function is.”

V. Conclusion

Miguel Estrada is a well-qualified and well-respected judicial nominee who has very strong bipartisan support. Based on our reading of history, we believe that you have ample information about this nominee and have had more than enough time to consider questions about his qualifications and suitability. We urge you to stop the unfair treatment, end the filibuster, allow an up-or-down vote, and vote to confirm Mr. Estrada.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 3, 2003

Dear Senator Feinstein:

I write in response to your vote in the Judiciary Committee on the nomination of Miguel Estrada and to respectfully urge that you reconsider this important nomination when you vote on it in the full Senate. I write in particular because it appears from your statement in the Committee (and on your web site) that you may possess inaccurate or incomplete information on certain issues that you have deemed important to the Estrada nomination.

First, it appears you relied on the fact that Estrada has no previous judicial service. But five of the eight judges currently serving on the D.C. Circuit had no previous judicial experience when appointed. That includes two of President Clinton's nominees, Merrick Garland, whose Justice Department record was quite similar to that of Miguel Estrada, and David Tatel. In addition, Judge Harry Edwards had no prior judicial experience when he was nominated by President Carter in 1979, and he was younger than Estrada. In addition, several Ninth Circuit judges from California who were appointed by President Clinton, and had your support, had no prior judicial experience. That includes Judge William Fletcher, Judge Raymond Fisher, and Judge Marsha Berzon.

The American Bar Association, which Democrat Senators Leahy and Schumer have referred to as the "gold standard," unanimously rated Estrada "well qualified" for the D.C. Circuit, the ABA's highest possible rating. We think the ABA rating was quite appropriate in light of Estrada's excellent record, including his work as an Assistant Solicitor General in the Clinton and Bush Administrations, his record as a federal prosecutor in New York, his service as a law clerk to Justice Kennedy, and his pro bono work including his volunteer representation of a death row inmate before the Supreme Court. He has argued 15 cases before the Supreme Court of the United States, a figure that few lawyers can match, and particularly impressive for someone who immigrated to this country at age 17 speaking little English.

Second, you also referenced a news report quoting the views of Paul Bender, a former Deputy Solicitor General. Mr. Bender has not written a letter to the Committee or otherwise publicly explained his views, so we are unclear whether this news report was accurate. But more important, as I explained in a September 17, 2002, letter to then-Chairman Leahy and Senator Hatch, Paul Bender in fact signed the performance reviews of Miguel Estrada for the two years that they worked together. The performance reviews for those years gave Estrada the highest possible rating of "outstanding" in every possible category. Significantly, the performance reviews that Bender signed also stated the following to support the judgment that Estrada's performance was "outstanding."

- "states the operative facts and applicable law completely and persuasively, with record citations, and in conformance with court and office rules, and with concern for fairness, clarity, simplicity, and conciseness."
- "[i]s extremely knowledgeable of resource materials and uses them expertly; acting independently, goes directly to point of the matter and gives reliable, accurate, responsive information in communicating position to others."
- "[a]ll dealings, oral and written, with the courts, clients, and others are conducted in a diplomatic, cooperative, and candid manner."
- "[a]ll briefs, motions or memoranda reviewed consistently reflect no policies at variance with Departmental or Governmental policies, or fails to discuss and analyze relevant authorities."
- "[i]s constantly sought for advice and counsel. Inspires co-workers by example."

Apart from the contemporaneous reviews that Mr. Bender himself signed, it also bears mention that the Committee has received letters from Seth Waxman, President Clinton's Solicitor General, and a bipartisan group of 14 former colleagues of Mr. Estrada in the Solicitor General's office. Seth Waxman wrote to the Committee that Estrada is a "model of professionalism and competence" and that he has "great respect both for Mr. Estrada's intellect and for his integrity." He continued: "In no way did I ever discern that the recommendations Mr. Estrada made or the views he propounded were colored in any way by his personal views – or indeed that they reflected anything other than the long-term interests of the United States." And the bipartisan group of former colleagues from the Office of Solicitor General wrote to the Committee that Estrada "would be a fair and honest judge who would decide cases in accordance with applicable legal principles and precedents." Finally, to the extent Mr. Bender's own personal political and ideological views are relevant, we call your attention to Senator Hatch's opening statement at the hearing on September 26, 2002.

Third, you referenced the fact that Miguel Estrada has been "accused" of using an ideological litmus test when assisting Justice Kennedy in the selection of his law clerks. We respectfully do not think this "accusation" is credible or supported. In fact, Mr. Estrada explained at his hearing that he in fact had been very supportive, for example, of the hiring of one law clerk for Justice Kennedy who at the time worked for President Clinton, is a strong Democrat, and now works for Senator Leahy on the Judiciary Committee.

Fourth, you noted concern among "Hispanic organizations." In fact, the overwhelming majority of national Hispanic organizations have supported Mr. Estrada. That includes the Hispanic National Bar Association, the League of United Latin American Citizens, the U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, the Hispanic Business Roundtable, and the Latino Coalition, among many others. To be sure, MALDEF and PRLDEF do oppose Mr. Estrada. As to Hispanic members of the House, we understand that all of the Republican Hispanics support him while the Democrat Hispanics do not. In any event, LULAC's statement is noteworthy, as it states: "[Estrada] is truly one of the rising stars in the Hispanic community and a role model for our youth."

Thank you for considering this nominee in light of the above information. This is an historic nomination, as Miguel Estrada would be the first Hispanic to serve on the D.C. Circuit. We urge you to vote to confirm him.

Sincerely,

Brett,
Did you have the chance to look at a RNC Mail Piece called "CAB and PC Spring Invite" that Kate brought by? She is trying to get an answer by this morning.

Brett,
Sorry to bother you again on this, but Kate has two specific questions pertaining to the invite you said was ok. They are as follows:

1. Can they say "we have invited leading officials who serve in the Bush Administration, national Republican experts and Party leaders to take part in these issue sessions. I look forward to hearing your thoughts on these topics and others."?
2. On the agenda, there is a session called "The War on Terrorism and the US Role". The invited speakers are Oliver North and James K. Baker. Are you ok with that?

I'll pass anything you get to me on to Kate. Thanks.

Jon

The Honorable Richard Cheney
President of the Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. President:

Enclosed herewith is draft legislation, the "Collateral Valuation Improvement Act of 2003." The draft legislation would amend section 9303 of title 31, United States Code. If enacted, taxpayers will benefit through an enhanced collateral valuation application and the mark-to-market requirements protecting the interests of public monies requiring collateral.

The substantive terms of this section have not been changed since 1935. This amendment would modernize and enhance the law by requiring that pledged collateral used in lieu of a surety bond, as determined by the Secretary, have a current market value that is equal to or greater than the amount of the required surety bond. This change is consistent with a recommendation made by the General Accounting Office with respect to other programs involving a pledge of collateral to the Government.

I would appreciate it if you would lay the draft legislation before the Senate. An identical letter has been transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

David Aufhauser

Enclosures

A BILL

To amend chapter 93 of title 31, United States Code, to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to require that collateral offered in lieu of surety bonds, be valued at market value.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Collateral Valuation Improvement Act of 2003."

SECTION 2. VALUE OF ELIGIBLE OBLIGATIONS.

Section 9303(a)(2) of title 31, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(2) as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, have a market value that is equal to or greater than the amount of the required surety bond; and".

SECTION 3. EFFECTIVE DATE.

The amendments made by this Act shall become effective on the date of enactment of this Act.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1 provides a short title of the bill.

Section 2 amends 31 U.S.C. § 9303 by requiring that an obligation used instead of a surety bond, as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, have a market value that is equal to or greater than the amount of the required surety bond. Currently, 31 U.S.C. § 9303 provides that any obligation given instead of a surety bond be in an amount equal at its par value to the amount of the required surety bond.

The change in proposed section 2 is needed because the stipulation contained in the current statute -- that the obligation given be in an amount equal at par value to the amount of the surety bond -- is insufficient to protect the interests of the taxpayer and the Government. A security offered in lieu of a surety bond and with a par value equal to that surety bond could trade at a discount (such as a principal component of a Treasury security stripped of its interest components under the Treasury's STRIPS program) or simply have a reduced market value and therefore would not have a value sufficient to protect public monies or make whole the Government in the event of default.

Section 3 provides an effective date of the bill.

The President is right: The judicial confirmation process is broken.

During the 2000 campaign George W. Bush realized this - knowing full well Senate Republicans abused their advise-and-consent role during the Clinton years - and proposed that the Senate deal with judicial nominations in a timely fashion. He noted then that the process "does not empower anyone to turn the process into a protracted ordeal of unreasonable delay and unrelenting investigation." Bush knew his history, too, citing the "unacceptably high" number of bench vacancies left by partisan sniping in both the presidencies of his father and Bill Clinton.

He has announced plans for changing the way the Senate acts on judicial nominations no fewer than three times. In a recent letter to Senators Bill Frist and Tom Daschle, the President again called for the charade to end:

I ask Senators of both parties to come together to end the escalating cycle of blame and bitterness and to restore fairness, predictability, and dignity to the process. I ask that the Senate take action, including adoption of a permanent rule, to ensure timely up-or-down votes on judicial nominations both now and in the future, no matter who is President or which party controls the Senate. This is the only way to ensure that our judiciary works and that good people remain willing to be nominated to the federal bench.

All Senators should have a chance to have their voices heard and their votes counted. All Presidents should have their judicial nominees considered and voted upon in a reasonable time. All nominees should have the certainty of an up-or-down Senate vote within a reasonable time. All judges should have the assurance that vacancies on their courts will not persist for years. And all Americans should have the assurance that the federal courts will remain open and fully staffed to resolve their disputes and protect their rights and liberties.

In the ideal world, Senators would agree to Bush's proposals - and now. Yet in the real world inhabited by cynics and skeptics, it is hard to believe the Senate would give so much ground to its antagonist in the Executive Branch. Never mind that the Judiciary Committee chairman (Orrin Hatch) and the ranking minority member (Patrick Leahy) have, at different times, expressed their support for such reforms.

The game of one-upmanship and spite has gone on far too long. The long knives have cut both ways.

President Bush wants to end the hemorrhaging brought about by petty politicking on judges. Give judges hearings, then vote them up or vote them down - and make such rules permanent so that they would remain for a Democratic Senate or a Republican one, for a Republican President or a Democratic one. It's not too much to ask.

The Senate should adhere to the President's request. Not doing so would be the unkindest cut of all.

End Original ARMS Header #####

On this my last day at the White House, I would like to say farewell to the *finest* group of colleagues that a person could ever hope for. My time at the White House has been a wonderful experience, and each of you has helped to make it so. Thank you so much for being such a pleasure to work with, and simply to know.

All the best,
Helgi Walker

On this my last day at the White House, I would like to say farewell to the *finest* group of colleagues that a person could ever hope for. My time at the White House has been a wonderful experience, and each of you has helped to make it so. Thank you so much for being such a pleasure to work with, and simply to know.

All the best,
Helgi Walker

JUST THIS PARA TELLS YOU WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

Until now, the largest organization behind the movement to derail America's war in Iraq has been "International ANSWER," which has been revealed as a front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. According to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times, some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWER protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatable face to the American public.

By David Horowitz
FrontPageMagazine.com | March 31, 2003

Every movement has its moment of truth. At an "anti-war" teach-in at Columbia last week, Anthropology professor Nicholas De Genova told 3,000 students and faculty, "Peace is not patriotic. Peace is subversive, because peace anticipates a very different world than the one in which we live--a world where the U.S. would have no place."

De Genova continued: "The only true heroes are those who find ways that help defeat the U.S. military. I personally would like to see a million Mogadishus."<sup>1</sup> This was a reference to the ambush of U.S. forces by an al-Qaeda warlord in Somalia in 1993. The Americans were there on a humanitarian mission to feed starving Somali Muslims. The al-Qaeda warlord was stealing the food and selling it on the black market. His forces killed 18 American soldiers and dragged their bodies through the streets in an act designed to humiliate their country. In short, America can do no good, and nothing that is done to America can be worse than it deserves.

The best that could be said of the crowd of Columbia faculty and students is that they did not react to Mogadishu remark (perhaps they did not know what "Mogadishu" referred to). But they "applauded loudly," when the same professor said, "If we really [believe] that this war is criminal ... then we have to believe in the victory of the Iraqi people and the defeat of the U.S. war machine."<sup>2</sup>

In other words, the American left as represented by faculty and students at one of the nation's most elite universities wants America to lose the war with the terrorist and fascist regime in Baghdad. In shorts, the crowd might just have well applauded the professor's first statement as well.

The phrase "a million Mogadishus," has a resonance for those of us who participated in an earlier leftist "peace" movement, during the war in Indochina. In 1967, at the height of the conflict, the Cuban Communist leader, Che Guevara (still an icon among radicals today) called on revolutionaries all over the world "to create...two, three, many Vietnams," to defeat the American enemy. It was the Sixties version of a call for jihad.

In the late Sixties, I was the editor of Ramparts, the largest magazine of the New Left and I edited a book of anti-American essays with the same title, Two, Three, Many Vietnams. Tom Hayden a leader of the New Left (later a Democratic State Senator and activist against the war in Iraq) used the same slogan as he called for armed uprisings inside the United States. In 1962, as a Marxist radical, I myself had helped to organize the first protest against the war in Vietnam at the University of California, Berkeley. At the time, America had only 300 "advisers" in Vietnam, who were seeking to prevent the Communist gulag that was to come. John F. Kennedy was President and had been invited to speak on the campus. We picketed his appearance. Our slogan was, "Kennedy's Three R's: Radiation, Reaction and Repression." We didn't want peace in Vietnam. We wanted a revolution in America.

But we were clever. Or rather, we got smarter. We realized we couldn't attract large numbers of people by revealing our deranged fantasies about America (although that of course is not how we would have looked at them). We realized that we needed the support of a lot of Americans who would never agree with our real agendas if we were going to influence the course of the war. So we changed our slogan to "Bring the Troops Home." That seemed to express care for Americans while accomplishing the same goal. If America brought her troops home in the middle of the war, the Communists would win. Which is exactly what happened.

The nature of the movement that revealed itself at Columbia is the same. When the Mogadishu remark was made, it was as if the devil had inadvertently exposed his horns, and someone needed to put a hat over them before others realized it. That someone was the demonstration organizer, Professor Eric Foner, the prestigious head of Columbia's history department. Actually, when Foner spoke after De Genova at the teach-in, he failed to find the Mogadishu remark offensive. Instead Foner dissociated himself from another De Genova comment to the effect that all Americans who described themselves as "patriotic," were actually "white supremacists."

But the next day when a reporter from New York NewsDay called Foner, the professor realized that the Mogadishu remark had caused some trouble. When asked now about the statement he said it was "idiotic." He told the reporter, "I thought that was completely uncalled for. We do not desire the deaths of American soldiers." Foner did not say (and was not asked) how he thought organizing an anti-American demonstration to protest America's war in Iraq and express the hope that we lose would not encourage the enemy and possibly lead to American deaths.

Eric Foner is the scion of a family of American Communists (and American Communist leaders) at that. In the Sixties he was an anti-American Stalinist. After the terrorist attacks of 9/11, he wrote a piece in the London Review of Books saying, "I'm not sure which is more frightening: the horror that engulfed New York City or the apocalyptic rhetoric emanating daily from the White House." After receiving much adverse reaction, he wrote a self-exculpatory piece for The New York Times explaining that his uncertainty was actually patriotic.

Eric Foner's cover-up reflects a powerful tactical current in the movement to derail America's war in Iraq. Until now, the largest organization behind this movement has been "International ANSWER," which thanks in part to the efforts of the War Room and www.frontpagemag.com has been revealed as front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. According to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times,<sup>3</sup> some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWER protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatable face to the American public.

As it happens, the name of the new organization was similar to that of one of the two main groups behind the national protests of the anti-Vietnam movement. It was called the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice and it was run by the American Communist Party. (As it happens, the other organizer of the national demonstrations was the MOBE, which was run by the Trotskyist Communist Party.)

The groups that People for the American Way assembled to create the new Iraq protest organization picked Leslie Cagan to be its leader. Cagan is a veteran of the old Vietnam left -- a pro-Castro radical who was still a member of the Communist Party after the fall of the Berlin Wall. Ms. Cagan's politics were no less radical and anti-American than International ANSWER's. But Leslie Cagan understood the problem of too much candor. "If we're going to be a force that needs to be listened to by our elected officials, by the media," Ms. Cagan told the Times, "our movement needs to reflect the population." In other words, we have to keep our horns hidden. According to the Times, since that meeting, the left has been hiring Madison Avenue firms to shape its messages and has been putting up billboards with the slogan "Peace Is Patriotic" to make its point.

At the Columbia teach-in, Professor Foner had this to say about patriotism. "I refuse to cede the definition of American patriotism to George W. Bush," Foner said, drawing a cheer from the audience. "I have a different definition of patriotism, which comes from Paul Robeson: The patriot is the person who is never satisfied with his country." It's true that Paul Robeson was never satisfied with his country. He was an icon (and member) of the American Communist Party, who received a Stalin Peace Prize from the dictator himself. <sup>4</sup>

Plus ça change,...plus c'est la même chose.

The war in America's streets is not about "peace" or "more time for inspections." It is about which side should lose the war we are now in. The left has made crystal clear its desire that the loser should be us. Even if the left had not made this explicit, a "peace" movement directed at one side makes sense only as an effort to force that side to retreat from the battle and lose the war. Which is exactly what the Columbia professor said. If this is patriotism, what is treason?

The school president is not able to get enough funding to cover a charter for Mrs. Cheney. So the only way that we will be able to make it work is:

- 1) if the school can split the costs with the AR GOP and the party can raise the funds with a quick fundraiser while she is there;
- 2) the school is willing to arrange a private plane for Mrs. Cheney through one of the school's backers. I believe that we are not allowing this, but since it isn't a political trip, is it a possibility?

What do y'all think?

Great. What is address. I will speak on a few judge topics briefly and the take q and a until I get run out of the house. I gather some reporters are coming. Off the record still? I will speak as I otherwise would but do not want a slew of stories (or any) based solely on this appearance. Thanks and see you tomorrow.

Thanks, Amy. Brett, feel free to give me a call today (or we can talk tonight) about the reporter issue. I did not know any were coming. And I am more than happy to designate your talk as "off the record" -- and I won't even kid you about asking me to take that phrase off the flyer. :)

Brett, it's PRA 6 -- I know you've been there before but directions are attached just in case. I'd be happy to run any pesky reporters out of the house for you -- just say the word. See you tonight.

Great. What is address. I will speak on a few judge topics briefly and the take q and a until I get run out of the house. I gather some reporters are coming. Off the record still? I will speak as I otherwise would but do not want a slew of stories (or any) based solely on this appearance. Thanks and see you tomorrow.

We might want to start the process of identifying a day for a Principal's Meeting by inquiring on day availability for Judge Gonzalez and Viet Dinh. Then pick a time around the Leader's schedule.

Also Senator Cornyn has asked to be included, and we might do well to include Specter on this one. The old regulars were leadership plus self-selected JC members, but leadership now includes three of these: McConnell, Kyl and Sessions. We might consider newly asking other JC members if they want in.

Brett,

Below are the RSVPs. The only reporters I recognize are Lewis and Lane. If you want to designate this event as "off the record," I think it's a good idea to tell Lewis and Lane that this afternoon, before they show up tonight. I don't know either of them, but if you would prefer not to call them, I would be happy to do so if you want the event to be off the record. Let me know.

Subject: RE: YLSA event

Brett, it's PRA 6 -- I know you've been there before but directions are attached just in case. I'd be happy to run any pesky reporters out of the house for you -- just say the word. See you tonight.

Great. What is address. I will speak on a few judge topics briefly and the take q and a until I get run out of the house. I gather some reporters

REV_00430507

are coming. Off the record still? I will speak as I otherwise would but do not want a slew of stories (or any) based solely on this appearance. Thanks and see you tomorrow.

Just a reminder about your judges' talk at Amy and Casey's house tomorrow night at 7pm. 26 people have RSVPd. We're looking forward to it. Let me know if you have any questions (and here are my numbers if you need to reach me btw now and then)

Viet and Brett,

Can you tell me what day early next week works for you for a Principal's Meeting? Monday?

Frist wants to do one next week. Thurs or Fri seem risky, so would do earlier.

Subject: Principal's Meeting

We might want to start the process of identifying a day for a Principal's Meeting by inquiring on day availability for Judge Gonzalez and Viet Dinh. Then pick a time around the Leader's schedule.

Also Senator Cornyn has asked to be included, and we might do well to include Specter on this one. The old regulars were leadership plus self-selected JC members, but leadership now includes three of these: McConnell, Kyl and Sessions. We might consider newly asking other JC members if they want in.

Brett,

Would you be able to speak to some people from Christian Embassy tomorrow (4/3) morning in room 450? It would be for 15 minutes. We have 11:15-11:30, 10:30-10:45 and 10:45-11:00 open. Any of those times work for you? Thanks.

Yes, we finally got it. Apparently it had been sent to the former federal programs attorney in charge of FOIA matters, who has since moved to the FCC. Thanks for the note -- it's an excellent opinion, and I was not at all confident of winning this one at the district court level. Everyone here is very pleased.

We finally got it today -- a very solid, matter of fact opinion.
Surprising given the source. I'm shocked that she did this without argument -- apparently the opinion was served on an attorney that no longer works here. That's why we didn't know.

Thanks. I'm hopeful that this will give us broader base to work with on privilege. Won't help us with Sullivan yet, though. But if we have to assert privilege, it will.

Brett,

Would you be able to speak to some people from Christian Embassy tomorrow (4/3) morning in room 450? It would be for 15 minutes. We have 11:15-11:30, 10:30-10:45 and 10:45-11:00 open. Any of those times work for you? Thanks.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 28, 2003

Dear Chairman Hatch:

Thank you for your letter of March 25, advising the President of a letter you recently received from Senator Levin and Senator Stabenow. As you note, Senators Levin and Stabenow have returned blue slips objecting to all five judicial nominees from Michigan pending before the Committee. The Michigan Senators' letter further suggests that the White House did not engage in adequate consultation with them regarding these nominees. You have asked me to describe the nature and extent of consultation between the White House and the Michigan Senators regarding Richard Griffin, David McKeague, Susan Bieke Neilson, Henry Saad and Thomas Ludington. We are pleased to have the opportunity to explain why we believe there has been appropriate consultation.

Before turning to a chronological review of the record, we believe a general comment is in order. Senators Levin and Stabenow insisted from the outset that President Bush should renominate to the Sixth Circuit two nominees of President Clinton – Helene White and Kathleen McCree Lewis – who had not received hearings or votes. The Senators argued that “elementary fairness . . . necessitates that they be renominated, that hearings be held, and that they be voted up or down by the Senate Judiciary Committee.” See Levin-Stabenow Letter to President Bush (April 3, 2001). In response, we informed the Senators that we were in fact considering Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis, along with numerous other candidates, for the Sixth Circuit, but that the President would not commit to renominating them for those seats. We explained that it is extraordinarily rare for a President to nominate for the federal bench an individual previously nominated by his predecessor, especially when the predecessor is from another political party; that President Bush was not responsible for the failure of Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis to attain confirmation; and that numerous individuals appointed by President George H.W. Bush to the federal courts of appeals saw their nominations lapse without Senate action at the end of 1992, and did not have their names resubmitted by President Clinton. As we summarized, “President Bush is entitled to make his own appointments for these vacancies, and he may well prefer candidates other than those previously chosen by President Clinton.” See Gonzales Letter to Senators Levin and Stabenow (April 10, 2001).

Following this initial exchange, in which the White House made its position very clear, we moved forward with the process of evaluating candidates for the judicial vacancies in Michigan – including Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis, whom we interviewed – and recommending nominees to the President. Throughout this process, we repeatedly consulted with the Michigan Senators, seeking their input on candidates time and time again, almost literally until the eve of their nominations. At no point did either Senator Levin or Senator Stabenow ever articulate any specific objections to any of the five nominees. Instead, the Michigan Senators consistently responded to our consultations by (1) continuing to ask that President Bush “address” the White and McCree Lewis situations by renominating them, and (2) refusing to provide feedback on our proposed candidates unless and until we gave in to that request.

Specifically, our records show that, prior to the nominations of the five individuals in question, the White House engaged in the following noteworthy consultations with the Michigan Senators.

- April 3, 2001. The Michigan Senators write to the President to announce their position: “[E]lementary fairness to [Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis] . . . necessitates that they be renominated, that hearings be held, and that they be voted up or down by the Senate Judiciary Committee”; and “[n]ominating others in their stead would not only be inconsistent with your stated goal of bipartisanship, it would compound the difficult situation we are now in relative to filling the Michigan judicial vacancies on the Sixth Circuit.”
- April 10, 2001. I respond in writing as described above – stating that we are considering Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis, but that President Bush is entitled to make his own appointments for the Michigan vacancies.
- May 17, 2001. At a meeting in my office, I provide the Senators with the names of individuals being considered for the Sixth Circuit (including Judges Saad, McKeague, and Griffin) and for the vacancy on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan (including Thomas Ludington). I invite the Senators to provide their feedback on those individuals. Senator Levin, however, states that he will not provide any reactions until “the larger issue” is settled.
- May 17, 2001. Following up on my meeting with the Senators, Associate Counsel Brad Berenson calls the Chiefs of Staff of Senators Levin and Stabenow, again providing the names of the candidates and soliciting the Senators’ reaction.
- May 23, 2001. Mr. Berenson consults again with Senator Levin’s Chief of Staff regarding Judges Griffin, McKeague and Saad – making clear that no nominations are definite, and again asking for reactions or feedback from the Senator. Mr. Berenson also delivers the same message and invitation by voice mail to Senator Stabenow’s Chief of Staff.
- June 7, 2001. Mr. Berenson again calls Senator Stabenow’s Chief of Staff seeking the Senator’s reaction to the potential judicial nominees. The Chief of Staff reports that Senator Stabenow does not know any of the individuals in question and again urges that no action should be taken on them until the White/McCree Lewis situation is addressed.
- June 15, 2001. Mr. Berenson again calls Senator Stabenow’s Chief of Staff – once again seeking the Senator’s reaction to the potential judicial nominees, and notifying the Senator that Susan Bieke Neilson is under consideration for the Sixth Circuit. Mr.

Berenson also calls Senator Levin's Chief of Staff to deliver the same message, but is told that the Chief of Staff can not talk until the following Monday.

- June 21, 2001. After leaving several telephone messages, Mr. Berenson succeeds in contacting Senator Levin's Chief of Staff. Again, he seeks the Senator's reaction to the potential judicial nominees we had identified on May 17; he also gives notice that Susan Bieke Neilson is under consideration for the Sixth Circuit.
- July 9, 2001. Mr. Berenson speaks by phone with Senator Levin's Chief of Staff regarding Judge Neilson. Mr. Berenson leaves a voice mail message about Judge Neilson for Senator Stabenow's Chief of Staff.
- August 8, 2001. Mr. Berenson places phone calls to both Senators' Chiefs of Staff. Both are on vacation, so Mr. Berenson leaves messages regarding Judge Ludington.
- August 10, 2001. Senator Levin's Chief of Staff writes to Mr. Berenson reiterating Senator Levin's original position.
- August 14, 2001. Mr. Berenson responds to Senator Levin's Chief of Staff, explaining that "although we gave careful consideration to the matter, including interviews of both women, the President does not intend to nominate both these women to the Sixth Circuit." Mr. Berenson's letter further notes that "[we] have . . . continued to keep the Senator fully informed at every stage of our deliberations, providing the names of individuals the President is considering for appointment and repeatedly soliciting the Senator's views," and advises that "we would prefer to have the Senator's input before the President makes nominations."
- August 17, 2001. I send a letter to then-Chairman Leahy (with copies to the Michigan Senators as well as to you), once again clearly setting out the White House's position. I write that "I have met with Senators Levin and Stabenow and have listened carefully to their concerns regarding the history of nominations from Michigan to the Sixth Circuit. Although I understand their desire to have the President renominate two of President Clinton's candidates for the Court of Appeals . . . we believe it would be unfair to expect the President to do so. The net result of our discussions is an apparent standoff in which the two Michigan Senators are attempting (inappropriately, in my view) to use the threat of negative blue slips against President Bush's Michigan circuit nominees to compel the President to renominate Clinton nominees based upon grievances in which president Bush played no part." I also reiterate that "[w]e remain committed to consulting closely with home-state Senators to identify judicial candidates the President may nominate with the support of the Senators; however, meaningful, good faith consultation by the Senators cannot, in my judgment, include a demand that President Bush select as nominees those individuals previously selected by the prior Administration."
- August 22, 2001. Senator Levin's Chief of Staff writes to Mr. Berenson, proposing a bipartisan commission for judicial nominations in Michigan.

- August 23, 2001. Mr. Berenson responds, explaining that the White House is not willing to consider a commission in Michigan at this time. Mr. Berenson elaborates: “Commissions exist or are under consideration in only two or three states in which history or other special circumstances clearly justify such an unorthodox mechanism. None of these circumstances exists in Michigan.”
- October 9, 2001. I meet with the Michigan Senators at Senator Levin’s office to discuss potential solutions to the Sixth Circuit impasse.
- October 31, 2001. I speak with Senator Levin to explain why the Michigan Senators’ commission proposal is not acceptable, and to inform the Senator of the president’s intent to make nominations to the Sixth Circuit seats shortly.
- November 1, 2001. Senators Levin and Stabenow write to urge me “to reconsider [their] proposal to jointly establish a bipartisan judicial nominating commission for the existing Michigan vacancies on the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.” Again, they do not provide any comments on Judges Griffin, McKeague, Neilson, Saad or Ludington – and they indicate that “we could not, in good conscience, return blue slips on Sixth Circuit nominees until the unfair treatment of the nominations of [Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis] is addressed.”
- November 2, 2001. I respond to the Michigan Senators, respectfully declining to reconsider our decision not to establish a judicial nominating commission, and reiterating that we had proposed an appropriate solution to the Michigan situation. My letter also gives fair warning that “the President will soon make nominations to all of the existing federal judicial vacancies in Michigan,” and invites the Michigan Senators to reconsider their position.

Following these extensive consultations by the White House, the President nominated Judges McKeague, Saad and Neilson on November 8, 2001.

Still, our consultations as to the remaining vacancies continued even after this point. I met with the Michigan Senators on December 19, 2001, and again on February 7, 2002, to discuss solutions to the Michigan situation, and I called them on June 20 and 24, 2002. Seeing no prospect of resolution, the President nominated Judge Griffin to the Sixth Circuit on June 26, 2002. Judge Ludington was nominated later that year, on September 12.

In short, we engaged in repeated pre-nomination consultations with the Michigan Senators regarding these five nominees, making every reasonable effort to get the Senators’ feedback. We interviewed the candidates suggested by the Senators – Judge White and Ms. McCree Lewis. And we proposed our own reasonable solution to the matter. Notwithstanding these extensive efforts by the White House, the Michigan Senators steadfastly refused to provide feedback on the nominees, instead insisting that the President should first agree to nominate President Clinton’s candidates and/or to turn the process over to a commission. After several months, with no sign of progress, and having received no specific objections to any of the individuals in question, the President proceeded with his nominations, to address the acknowledged judicial emergencies on the Sixth Circuit. These emergencies continue to this day, and affect not only the constituents of Senators Levin and Stabenow, but also the citizens of Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee.

I believe that any reasonable observer would agree that the record described above demonstrates that the White House engaged in appropriate consultations with respect to the five Michigan judicial nominees.

* * *

I trust that this letter provides the information you need regarding our extensive consultation with the Michigan Senators. However, I would be pleased to provide additional details if necessary.

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

April 2, 2003

Dear Senators Levin and Stabenow:

I respectfully write with regard to your March 19 joint letter to Chairman Hatch, which accompanied your return of blue slips indicating your opposition to a hearing and vote for five pending Michigan nominees for federal judicial seats. Your letter explains that you are objecting to these Michigan nominees – and will continue to object to future Michigan nominees – in order to protest the fact that two of President Clinton’s judicial nominees from Michigan did not receive hearings.

Although you have returned negative blue slips for all of these nominations, you do not indicate any opposition based upon qualifications to any of the five individuals in question. Nor did you express any such specific opposition during our pre-nomination consultations with your offices regarding these individuals. (This consultation history is described more fully in the attached response to an inquiry from Chairman Hatch.) In our judgment, all five nominees are indeed well qualified to serve on the federal bench, and deserve prompt hearings and votes. I will briefly review their qualifications below, before turning to your complaints regarding President Clinton’s nominees and, finally, addressing your blue slips.

I. The Nominees

David McKeague, Susan Bieke Neilson, Henry Saad, Richard Griffin and Thomas Ludington are well qualified for the judicial seats for which they have been nominated.

Judge McKeague has served on the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan since 1991, when he was unanimously confirmed by the then-Democrat-controlled Senate. During his tenure as a district judge, he has on seven occasions been designated to sit on a panel of the Sixth Circuit. Chief Justice Rehnquist appointed Judge McKeague to serve on the Judicial Conference’s Committee on Defender Services, where Judge McKeague chairs the funding subcommittee. The Chief Justice also appointed Judge McKeague to the District Judges Education Committee of the Federal Judicial Center, which Judge McKeague chairs. The American Bar Association (“ABA”) has given Judge McKeague a “Well Qualified” rating for the Sixth Circuit.

Judge Neilson has served on the 3rd Judicial Circuit Court of Michigan since 1991. She has written numerous articles and was co-editor and author of Michigan Civil Procedure, a two-volume treatise on all areas of Michigan civil practice. This treatise was selected by the Michigan Judicial Institute for purchase on behalf of every trial judge in the State of Michigan and received the “Plain English Award” from the State Bar of Michigan. The ABA has unanimously rated Judge Neilson “Well-Qualified” for the Sixth Circuit.

Judge Saad has served on the Michigan Court of Appeals since 1994. During his 1996 retention election, he received broad bipartisan support, including endorsements from the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and the United Auto Workers. Judge Saad is also active in the community. He has served as President of the Wayne State University Law School Alumni Association, Chairman of the Board of the Oakland Community College Foundation, and as a Board Member on the National Conference of Christians and Jews. In 1995, he received the Arab-American and Chaldean Council Civic and Humanitarian Award for Outstanding Dedication to Serving the Community with Compassion and Understanding. The ABA has given Judge Saad a “Qualified” rating. It also bears noting that Judge Saad was nominated to the Eastern District of Michigan by President George H.W. Bush a decade ago, but did not receive a hearing.

Judge Griffin has served on the Michigan Court of Appeals since 1989. He has served the bench and bar in a number of volunteer capacities. He is a former member of the federal judicial selection committee for the Western District of Michigan, and currently serves as Chairman of the Quality Review Committee for the Michigan Court of Appeals. The ABA has rated Judge Griffin “Well Qualified” to serve on the Sixth Circuit.

In sum, all four of the President’s Sixth Circuit nominees from Michigan have extensive experience on the state or federal benches; all are active in their communities and in the bar; all have extensive support in Michigan; and all have received Well Qualified or Qualified ratings from the ABA. We respectfully submit that by any traditional standard, Judges McKeague, Neilson, Saad and Griffin are superbly qualified candidates for the vacant seats on the Sixth Circuit – seats that have been designated “judicial emergencies” by the Judicial Conference.

Thomas Ludington is likewise fully qualified for the district court. He has considerable experience on the state bench – having served as Chief Judge of the 42nd Circuit Court in Michigan since 1995 – and enjoys wide support within the State. And he too has received a unanimous “Well Qualified” rating from the ABA.

II. The Basis of Your Objections

In explaining your negative blue slips, you note that two of President Clinton’s Michigan nominees to the Sixth Circuit, Judge Helene White and Kathleen McCree Lewis, did not receive hearings or votes.

We understand your position. President Bush has explained that too many nominees of both President Bill Clinton and President George H.W. Bush did not receive timely hearings and votes. For example, two of President George H.W. Bush’s Sixth Circuit nominees – John Smietanka and Justin Wilson – and his nominee to the Eastern District of Michigan, Judge Saad, did not receive hearings or votes in the then-Democrat-controlled Senate a decade ago.

President Bush has called on both parties to move on from the cycle of blame and retribution that has plagued the Senate for more than a decade. Since the 2000 campaign, the President has emphasized that every judicial nominee should receive a committee hearing and up or down floor vote within a reasonable time, no matter who is President or which party controls the Senate. On October 30, 2002, after nearly two additional years of Senate delays, the President advanced a plan involving all three Branches that would require, among other steps, the Senate to vote on nominees within 180 days of nomination. The plan would ensure a generous period of time for all Senators to gather information and have their voices heard and votes counted. Whether the nominee is John Smietanka or Helene White or Susan Bieke Neilson, whether the President is President Clinton or President Bush, whether the Senate is Republican- or Democrat-controlled, the President believes that the procedures for fair and timely Senate consideration and votes on judicial nominations should be the same.

III. The Significance of the Blue Slips

Against this backdrop, let me turn to your blue slips.

It has been my understanding that the blue slip is not a veto, but rather a device to ensure adequate pre-nomination consultation with home-state Senators, such as has occurred in the cases of these five nominees. We understand this to have been the consistent Senate policy for at least the last 25 years – during the Chairmanships of Senators Kennedy, Thurmond, Biden and Hatch. And in recent weeks, several other Democrat Senators (including former Chairman Leahy) have argued that Jorge Rangel and Enrique Moreno, nominees of President Clinton to the Fifth Circuit, should have received hearings and votes notwithstanding what the Committee deemed to be inadequate consultation with home-state Senators – thereby implicitly embracing the view that home-State Senators should not be allowed to veto a nominee.

We agree strongly with the bipartisan policy maintained by Senators Kennedy, Thurmond, Biden, and Hatch as Chairs of the Judiciary Committee. We respectfully agree that the tradition of consultation does not and should not entail a veto for home-state Senators, particularly a veto wielded for ideological or political purposes. Rather, the intention of the Constitution and the tradition of the Senate require, in our judgment, that the full Senate hold an up or down vote on each judicial nominee. If the objections of home-state Senators to a nominee are persuasive, those objections either will deter the President from submitting the nomination in the first instance or, alternatively, will convince a majority of the Senate that the nomination should be rejected. As Senator Kennedy stated in 1981, however, the Senate has not allowed and should not allow “individual Senators [to] ban, prohibit, or bar” consideration of a nominee.

Once again I respectfully suggest that all Senators should have their voices heard and their votes counted on the nominations of Judges McKeague, Neilson, Saad, Griffin, and Ludington – five individuals well qualified to serve on the federal bench.

I remain hopeful that we can work together to fill these judicial emergencies and I remain ready to meet to explore options.

Sincerely,

The Government Relations Office of News Corporation

invites you and a guest to a private screening of

X2

In this long-awaited sequel to X-Men, we find the mutants continuing to struggle against a society that fears and distrusts them. Their cause becomes even more desperate following an incredible attack by an as yet undetermined assailant possessing extraordinary abilities. The shocking attack renews the political and public outcry for a Mutant Registration Act and an anti-mutant movement now led by William Stryker, a wealthy former Army commander who is rumored to have experimented on mutants.

Stryker's mutant "work" is somehow tied to Logan's mysterious and forgotten past. As Wolverine searches for clues to his origin, Stryker puts into motion his anti mutant program - launching an attack on Xavier's mansion. Magneto, newly escaped from his plastic prison, proposes a partnership with the X-Men to combat their common and formidable enemy - Stryker.

With the fates of Xavier, mankind - and mutantkind - in their hands, the X-Men face their most dangerous mission ever.

This is a straightforward request. However, the required information for you to make a "permanent" commitment is not available now and I am only asking for you to express a willingness to agree to participate in the subject program if eventual schedules permit.

Basics

The U.S.-Ukraine Foundation is preparing a proposal for a U.S.-Ukraine Policy Dialog Exchange that would be sponsored by the Office of Citizen Exchanges of the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs at the Department of State. If the proposal is accepted the dialogue will be conducted through four working groups and there will be no more than two meetings involving your participation over a two-year period.

The Request

Would you agree to consider participating in the dialogue exchange if the U.S.-Ukraine Foundation's proposal is accepted and dates for a "dialogue" can be accomodated in your schedule ?

-----Background

The Foundation's proposal targets the NATO-Ukraine Action Plan as the overall agenda to be addressed in this dialog, which addresses key issues that impact Ukraine's democratic and market-oriented development and its eventual integration into the Euro-Atlantic community.

This dialog will be organized along four working groups - internal politics and governance, informational issues (independent media), foreign policy and security, and economic and business issues.

To date, several well-know DC institutions have agreed to participate and we expect favorable responses from several others in the next couple of days.

The two-year program envisions two meetings held in Washington and two in Kyiv attended by 15 participants from each country. The purpose of the program is to advance constructive dialog and enhance relationships among experts in the United States and Ukraine by providing an on-going forum through which they can freely exchange ideas and discuss issues and concerns of mutual interest in the context of the bilateral relationship between the two nations. The proposal calls for meetings with government and private sector experts in each of the focus areas.

Dole, Edwards at odds over judge nomination

By Kevin Begos

JOURNAL WASHINGTON BUREAU

WASHINGTON

A 10-year-old dispute over federal judges has sparked the first public battle between Sens. John Edwards and Elizabeth Dole, suggesting that the political ghost of Jesse Helms still looms over North Carolina.

Dole, a freshman, joined other Republicans yesterday when she criticized Edwards for holding up the nomination of Judge Terrence Boyle, one of President Bush's nominees to the U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. Dole sent a letter to Edwards complaining about his actions, and she later held a conference call with reporters on the same subject. Earlier in the day, Bush highlighted the issue of judicial nominees during a White House news conference.

"It's a crisis made worse by senators," Dole said during the conference call. Dole then ducked questions about whether Helms used the same tactics to block Clinton-era nominees during a time when her husband, former Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, was the Senate majority leader for Republicans.

Dole said she wanted to leave "the bitterness of the past behind" to find a process that would guarantee all presidential nominees a Senate hearing. Despite Dole's comments, some said that ignoring the Helms' legacy and trying to pin blame on Edwards is politics as usual, not a force for change. "She's got the Senate seat of the champion blocker of them all," said Ferrel Guillory, the head of the Southern Politics, Media and Public Life program at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"Clearly, Helms spent much of his career blocking nominees."

To expect Edwards and other Democrats to ignore the past is unrealistic, Guillory said, adding that "trying to put pressure on Edwards with Boyle is just going back to the same cycle."

"She could be a force for helping to break the cycle," he said of Dole.

Edwards responded to Dole's criticism with a statement saying that he was "pleased to work with President Bush and Sen. Dole to reach agreement on a consensus nominee for the Fourth Circuit Court" - Allyson Duncan, a Republican lawyer from Raleigh.

The larger battle in Washington has been over the Democrats' efforts to block the nominations of Michael Estrada to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia and of Priscilla Owen to the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

But in North Carolina, the Boyle nomination has been a political football for more than 10 years.

Boyle, a former Helms aide, was first nominated during the first Bush administration. He was re-nominated two years ago, but Edwards has used Senate rules to block any hearing for Boyle, suggesting that Boyle's views are too extreme to effectively represent the state.

Edwards wants to move quickly on the Duncan nomination, but Dole said that Boyle should get a hearing first because he has been waiting so long for one.

Dole also said that the delays "endanger American justice" and that the vacancies on the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals are a "judicial emergency." However, she did not respond to questions about Helms' previous stand, which held that there was no need for more federal judges. The chief justice of the Fourth Circuit echoed that opinion when Clinton nominees were being blocked.

He hasn't spoken to any administration groups (assuming that's what you mean by domestic?) in a long time. I'll send some older ones in a min.

REMARKS BY
ALBERTO R. GONZALES
COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

National Archives and Records Administration

International Trade Center
Washington, D.C.

Tuesday, May 13, 2003

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen.

Eight years ago I left the security and financial comfort of private practice to work for a political newcomer – our then newly elected Texas governor, George W. Bush as Counsel to the Governor. I had, of course, no idea at the time of the incredible journey that I was about to travel.

During my absence from private practice over the last eight years, our country has witnessed the impeachment and trial of a sitting President, agonized over a contested Presidential election that involved two decisions by our Supreme Court, we have grieved over the losses from the horrific attacks on September 11th, and we have prosecuted with grim determination a military campaign in Afghanistan and beyond, in our war on terrorism and in pursuit of the national security of this great country.

By any measure it has been a historic period for our beloved America; and my two young sons, as well as your children, will face a world far different than the one you and I know.

Life is the sum of the choices we make. I have been blessed with a remarkable series of good choices, including my decision to go into public service. And those of you here today likewise have devoted your lives and careers to public service – and ensuring that policymakers have the records and tools they need to do their job. Your public service is important and valuable to this nation, this President, and all Presidents.

This morning I thought what would be most interesting is for me to sketch a picture for you about life today in the White House by answering questions most often asked of the people who advise the President.

I begin with the most obvious question, what is it like to work in the White House? After all, people from all over the world travel to Washington for a look at the President's home. They stand outside the black iron rod gates peering in for just a glimpse of the President or First Lady. Most Americans scramble to get White House tour tickets and are often willing to wait in line for hours for the opportunity to attend events like the White House Easter Egg Roll or T-ball on the South Lawn.

And then there are the few lucky Americans who actually know someone who works in the White House and are able to get a special West Wing tour - these visitors are afforded a rare after hours peek of the Oval Office, the Rose Garden and the Press Room where White House Spokesman Ari Fleischer gives his daily briefings.

I am fortunate to work in a place where history is made every hour of every day. But senior advisors to the President are not just innocent observers, we have an active hand in helping the President shape the events that our children will one day study in school. Most of you only know of General Ashcroft, Secretary Powell and Secretary Rumsfeld from briefings on television, but I work with them every day.

My meetings often involve discussions of classified materials and occur in the Oval Office and in the Situation Room. So, working in the White House is everything you could imagine and much, much more.

What are my days like? Well, they are long. I usually drive into the 18 acre White House compound between 6:00 and 6:15 in the morning.

The Assistants to the President meet every morning at 7:30 in the Roosevelt Room, located across the hall from the Oval Office.

Brad Blakeman, the President's scheduler, begins each meeting by announcing the President's public schedule for that day.

Ari Fleischer then ticks off the headlines from newspapers around the country. Often he solicits guidance on how he should respond to a particular story if asked at his daily press briefings.

David Hobbs, the Legislative Director, reports on pending legislation and raises other issues of interest involving the Congress.

Following David, we go around the table, reporting as necessary. Dr. Rice, for example, might discuss the latest finding by the UN Weapons inspectors. Admiral Abbot, the Homeland Security Advisor, might explain the latest homeland threat assessment.

Immediately afterwards, at 8:15 I assemble in my office with my staff of 13 lawyers.

As you might imagine, the President of the United States is often able to attract the cream of legal talent, and this President is no exception. A reporter for the Washington Post once described the current collection of talent in the Counsel's Office as the best law firm in the country.

One of the lawyers on my team is the designated ethics expert; she handles questions about the appropriate acceptance of gifts, financial disclosures, and conflicts of interest; another lawyer is a national security law expert who reports jointly to Dr. Rice and to me on all National Security legal issues, and yet another lawyer reports jointly to Admiral Abbott and to me on all legal matters related to Homeland Security.

And one more lawyer serves as Clearance Counsel. He works with the FBI, IRS and other agencies doing the background checks on all White House employees and presidential appointees. No one is employed within the Executive Office of the President or is appointed by the President unless my office clears them for suitability.

The remaining nine lawyers on the staff, including my deputy, handle all of the many other legal issues that we have to deal with in the White House, ranging from judicial selection to judicial interpretation of Administration policies, from presidential pardons to protection of presidential power. All nine lawyers have federal appellate clerkship experience, seven clerked for the U.S. Supreme Court. So it is a pretty strong group.

Several of my lawyers work on issues related to the Presidential Records Act and helping to ensure that the records are properly maintained by White House officials. The President is committed to ensuring an accurate and well-documented record of his administration.

After my staff meeting, I usually go down to the Situation Room in the basement of the West Wing for either a National Security Council meeting or a Homeland Security Council meeting with the President and various cabinet officers. These meetings often focus on the crises of the day.

At 9:50 my regularly scheduled activities end and my working day really begins. My calendar often includes meeting after meeting, with various people ranging from the President of the United States to a reporter drafting an article about judicial nominees. I have legislative strategy meetings and discussions with our domestic policy team on national policy issues such as immigration and gun control.

There are constant meetings with DOJ lawyers to discuss litigations strategy for cases like the Michigan affirmative action litigation and the 9th Circuit decision on the pledge of allegiance, and of course the war on terror.

Blocks of time are allocated for judicial interviews because my office is primarily responsible for recommending to the President men and women to the federal bench. Then there are trips to the Hill to visit with Senators regarding judicial candidates, or with other members of Congress about legislation important to the President. Each day is different and each day brings its own challenges.

I am often asked what I did on September 11th?

Well, I was scheduled to speak at a government ethics conference that morning in Norfolk, Virginia. Like you I had no idea of the extraordinary events that were about to unfold when I flew out of Dulles airport about an hour before American Flight 77 departed Dulles and crashed into the Pentagon.

I arrived at 8:45 at the hotel in Norfolk that I was scheduled to speak at around 9:00.

As I made my way up to the ballroom, my assistant called on my cell phone to tell me to get to a television, something, some sort of aircraft, had crashed into one of the World Trade Center Towers.

I really did not know what to think as I watched those first pictures. Like some of you, I found it hard to believe that this kind of accident could happen.

While I was not sure of the cause of this tragedy, I was certain that I should get back to Washington as quickly as possible.

Immediately following my shortened remarks, I was again hustled to a television set. By this time the second plane had hit the other tower, thus confirming our worst fears, and my office was already scrambling to get me back to D.C. on the earliest possible flight.

During the next hour, before most cell phone communication in and out of Washington was shut down, I stayed on the phone trying to collect the most current information from my deputy who had been moved into the Situation Room in the basement of the West Wing. I was told the President was safe in Florida, but beyond that details were sketchy as the fog of war started to settle in.

When I arrived at the gate at the Norfolk airport I was advised that the airport had been closed by the FAA. I remember strangers stood huddled together quietly staring at television sets in the terminal as reports began to confirm that the Pentagon had been hit.

Fortunately, I quickly found a military office at the airport and a navy officer graciously offered to drive me to Norfolk Naval Station. There was a lot of activity when we arrived. The base like other bases around the country was transitioning to the highest state of military alert.

When we entered the base headquarters we received erroneous reports that the State Department had now been hit and there were still unconfirmed reports of other hijacked aircraft.

Because I am an Assistant to the President and a civilian commissioned officer, the military recognized the need to assist me and offered to fly me back to Washington in a Navy helicopter.

One of the senior military officers asked me where exactly did I want to go - and I said as close as you can get me to the White House. He said they would arrange to land me on the South Lawn of the White House. I said no immediately. I knew that any aircraft approaching the White House might well be shot down and I knew that nobody but the President lands on the South Lawn.

For over an hour I waited in frustration as the Navy worked to obtain flight clearance.

Finally at half past noon we boarded the military helicopter and headed for Andrews Air Force Base. Nothing was said during the ride. I wondered how the President was doing and what I would find when I got back to my office.

When I arrived at the White House I went immediately to an underground secure location where the Vice President, most of the Senior staff, and other senior administration officials were working.

I had been to this bunker several times in the past for classified briefings - but that day it was crowded, bustling with activity and surrounded by heavily armed Secret Service agents with machine guns.

The situation appeared stable, Congressional leaders and cabinet secretaries in the line of Presidential succession had been located and moved to secure locations, and, except for essential personnel, the White House staff had either been relocated to various buildings in Washington or told to go home - but all of us in that bunker were aware that the President still was not home.

Later in the afternoon we had a secure video call with the President and he announced that he would return to Washington - where he felt he should be - even though there were still concerns about his safety.

The rest of the day is a blur. I remember at some point in the early evening finding Karen Hughes, one of the President's advisors, and walking with her to the Oval Office to meet the President who was by then en route to the White House aboard Marine One.

She and I waited outside of the Oval Office as it was being prepared for an address to the nation that night. When the President landed on the South Lawn, we immediately went back into his study behind the Oval and worked on his remarks - Karen and I, Ari Fleischer, Andy Card, Condi Rice and the President. Everybody was serious and we began the work of assessing what had happened and deciding the appropriate response.

Has my life and work changed since September 11th? Of course it has.

Not surprisingly my responsibilities as the President's lawyer have transitioned as a result of last fall's attacks. I am still involved in the appointment of federal judges and in defending the powers and privileges of the Presidency. I am still involved in ensuring that records are maintained and ethics rules are complied with.

But, more of my days are now consumed with the requirements of the Geneva Convention, the treatment of battlefield detainees at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba and the President's powers as Commander in Chief.

The international war on terrorism has challenged some of the basic legal principles that form the foundation of our domestic and international systems of justice. Americans have already discovered this new type of conflict doesn't always fit neatly within our traditional notions of civil liberties, and so your government is continually striving to find the right balance between protecting our country and preserving our freedoms.

The President, as the head of the executive branch and the Commander in Chief of our armed forces – and the only political leader directly accountable to all Americans – has a unique personal responsibility to ensure our safety and security.

As other Presidents have done during times of war or emergency, President Bush has taken difficult steps to preserve the long-term survival of this country. Beginning with his order, on the morning of September 11th, that military jets were to shoot down all commercial aircraft that approached Washington, D.C. with hostile intent.

But in exercising the serious responsibilities and duties of the Commander in Chief, the President has been careful to consult with his lawyers, he is mindful that even a President exercising his Commander in Chief powers must abide by the Constitution.

Yes the world has changed...but the words of the Constitution have not.

Members of the media, legal groups, and scholars have weighed in with strong opinions regarding the legality of certain decisions by this Administration in our war against terrorism.

Contrary to what some in the press would have you believe, we welcome the examination. Such debates are an absolutely necessary check in ensuring that the actions of our government are consistent with the rule of law.

Am I surprised that some have questioned
Administration policies in the war on terrorism?
No, quite the contrary.

America is confronting an unfamiliar enemy, sometimes hidden here in our community, waiting to deliver terror upon innocent people.

Despite this new type of threat, some assert that it is obvious that people waging war on America are entitled to lawyers, it is obvious they say that government proceedings should be open to the public, it is obvious they claim that foreign nationals doing battle against America have a right of access to our courts.

Respectfully, it is not so obvious as a matter of law.

Some of the issues we litigate today have not been argued in federal court in over 50 years ... some questions have never been litigated.

The novel issues generated by this conflict are not easily answered, as we have already seen in the conflicting decisions among district and circuit courts around the country.

History may show that a particular decision by the President was unwise or unnecessary. I do not think so, but we will see. I am confident history will confirm that the Administration did what it believed it lawfully could to safeguard our long-term freedoms and to prevent another horrific attack.

I am sometimes asked if I am having fun.

Well, this is without question the most difficult thing I have ever done. The pressure is relentless. Political opponents scrutinize every word and deed. The media is ever present to publicize every disagreement or misstep.

Mistakes can have enormous domestic and international consequences... but aside from all of that...yes, I do have fun.

Obviously, there is no other job that can offer perks comparable to presidential motorcades, rides aboard Air Force One and weekends at Camp David, but I would say that my job is more gratifying than fun. In 28 months I have advised our President on the first federal executions in 40 years, defended the institution of the Presidency in discussions with the Congress over the limits of Congressional oversight, and my office negotiated a historic Congressional resolution for use of force in Iraq.

I have given my best legal judgment whether significant legislation such as campaign finance reform is constitutional, reviewed the Geneva and Hague Conventions, studied whether the laws of war permit the United States to strike a target located adjacent to a mosque in Afghanistan, and I've supervised the nomination of over 140 federal judges, 90 U.S. Attorneys and 90 United States Marshals.

These are just a few examples of my public service, and why I say that this job more than satisfies the hopes and dreams I had as a young man of becoming a lawyer because I wanted a job where I could make a difference in the lives of ordinary Americans.

The final question I will answer this morning is perhaps the most personal. What is the President really like?

It is hard to be around George W. Bush and not learn, simply by watching and listening.

It is also hard to be around the President and not like him.

A lawyer who interacts with a client on a daily basis ... who weathers storms together, and who celebrate achievements together ... that lawyer is going to develop a pretty good understanding of the client's priorities and needs, his strengths and weaknesses. There are very few people I admire more than our President.

He is thoughtful, deliberate and serious about his duties in these extraordinarily difficult times. But he has a wonderful sense of humor and charm that is disarming and comforting.

The President also has an insightful sense of his destiny ... his place in time. He understands the majestic power of the Presidency to do good, to tackle difficult problems that no other person or institution can solve.

Equally important, President Bush has the courage to use that power even when it is not politically expedient – and I have seen it done time and time again. But what I admire most is his skill in choosing wisely the battles to fight, and accepting that there are limits to what can be accomplished – even for the President of the United States.

This President does the very best that he can ... and he is very comfortable knowing that is all he can do. I think that serenity and quite confidence comes from his very real and strong faith.

Now, you may be wondering whether I can properly discharge my responsibilities as the White House Counsel – can I say no to a President that I hold in such high regard. It is not as hard as you might imagine. I accepted this job knowing that I have a duty to the institution of the Presidency that goes beyond the person who occupies the office, and it is a duty that this President likewise recognizes and respects.

Am I concerned that government is too open or too secret, that there is a lack of balance between the public right to know and the need for candid advice? To me, this is an ongoing process our country goes through and constantly re-examines. It does concern me that the Executive Branch is subject to open records laws that do not apply to Congress. The public interest in knowing what the Senate Majority or Minority Leader is doing and writing would seem at least as great as what most Executive Branch officials below the President or Cabinet

Rank are doing and writing. Beyond that issue of selective application, we always need to strive to ensure balance. For the most partm permanent confidentiality is both unnecessary and deprives Americans of the teachings of history that is informative and necessary in a free and open society.

On the other hand, some time for the confidentiality if high-level deliberations is critical to ensure that the President and Cabinet officers and others can deliberate freely, and the Supreme Court has rightly recognized the importance. It also bears mention that much documentary history will be lost because it will never be documented if confidentiality is not assured. The framers of the Constitution sealed the records of their deliberations for 30 years to ensure frank debate.

There may be no precise formula, but to ensure the effective operation of the Executive Branch and the best available historical records, we believe that records of candid high-level deliberations should remain secure and confidential for a reasonable period of time, at least in the absence of a serious and credible allegation of wrongdoing.

I close by confessing that I have the best legal position in America. But if I could afford to, I would do this for free. But it is only a job and like every other job it will end someday. As my wife Rebecca is quick to remind me, the Office of the Presidency did just fine before the arrival of Al Gonzales and it will survive long after I am no longer the White House Counsel.

I must also confess that although I am in a great position, President Bush and I have spoken often about the good old days in Texas, of returning to the place where our life seemed simpler, less hectic and where doing the right thing seemed easier to define and to accomplish.

In the daily fog of Congressional subpoenas, breaking press stories and international confrontations threatening war, I sometimes find myself yearning for just one quiet moment, wondering if I will ever get to a point in my career when I can just appreciate my family and the wonderful life that God has given me.

Then my wife reminds me that whenever my professional life settles down, my telephone stops ringing and there are no back-to-back meetings I grow restless and unhappy. The lesson, she says, is to just be still and appreciate the moment. God gives you the quiet times for a reason, an opportunity to rest and refocus, and he prepares you in his own way to deal with those difficult periods that all of us in positions of power and responsibility will surely confront.

These days there are few quiet moments for rest and personal reflection. But every time I drive through the gates into the White House compound, or whenever I walk into the Oval Office to brief the most powerful person in the world, I do think about the awesome responsibility that the President has -- and the corresponding duty that falls upon all of us who serve him. Those are indescribable moments, and I will hold this privilege near my heart for the rest of my life.

Thank you very much.

This email came from a friend of mine from growing up who was one of the founders of the Nantucket Nectars juice company (of "Tom and Tom" fame). Anyway, he wants to help. Any thoughts where to point him? I thought you might have an idea.

Hey Brett-

Hope all is well. Just had a baby last week. Little boy. Total trip. Best 11 days of my life. I got married about a year ago. Loving married lifeyou there yet?

Was wondering if you could help me with something? George Bush has blown me away. The guy is making history every day. I love his style, his sense of ethics and incredible courage and determination. I'm am overboard patriotic, I love the constitution and am an avid fan of US/World history.

I want to work for this administration and for our country. I have an idea as to how. I have started a business with my wife and a friend. My wife was founder of J Crew. She stepped down as CEO of the company a couple of years ago. My other partner is a film producer who has produced 18 movies including Kids, Scream, Copland, Godzilla and Rudy. Our business is a combination of Entertainment and Marketing. We help our clients market their cause. We are extremely focused. We will have no more than three projects at any one time. Preferably it is one client and one project.

I want to help President Bush promote knowledge of American History. We consider it a great challenge, yet we know we can do this as well or better than anyone in the country. I have no idea how this kind of thing is handled. I am looking for help. This decision may have already been made and may not involve the private sector. I am hoping it does and that it is not too late.

We have access to the best of the best. We are passionate about ethical, honest communication. Performing a task we have the skill, the experience, and more importantly passion to carry off well, would be the professional and patriotic highlight of my career/life.

Please let me know if you can point me in the right direction.

Thanks for your consideration.

Yes. Have him call me. We have an American History, Civics and Service Initiative that is ongoing.
He sounds like a patriot and they make great juice.

This email came from a friend of mine from growing up who was one of the founders of the Nantucket Nectars juice company (of "Tom and Tom" fame). Anyway, he wants to help. Any thoughts where to point him? I thought you might have an idea.

Hey Brett-

Hope all is well. Just had a baby last week. Little boy. Total trip. Best 11 days of my life. I got married about a year ago. Loving married lifeyou there yet?

Was wondering if you could help me with something? George Bush has blown me away. The guy is making history every day. I love his style, his sense of ethics and incredible courage and determination. I'm am overboard patriotic, I love the constitution and am an avid fan of US/World history.

REV_00434063

I want to work for this administration and for our country. I have an idea as to how. I have started a business with my wife and a friend. My wife was founder of J Crew. She stepped down as CEO of the company a couple of years ago. My other partner is a film producer who has produced 18 movies including Kids, Scream, Copland, Godzilla and Rudy. Our business is a combination of Entertainment and Marketing. We help our clients market their cause. We are extremely focused. We will have no more than three projects at any one time. Preferably it is one client and one project.

I want to help President Bush promote knowledge of American History. We consider it a great challenge, yet we know we can do this as well or better than anyone in the country. I have no idea how this kind of thing is handled. I am looking for help. This decision may have already been made and may not involve the private sector. I am hoping it does and that it is not too late.

We have access to the best of the best. We are passionate about ethical, honest communication. Performing a task we have the skill, the experience, and more importantly passion to carry off well, would be the professional and patriotic highlight of my career/life.

Please let me know if you can point me in the right direction.

Thanks for your consideration.

Tom Scott

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I am writing to express the State Department's concern with language initially proposed by Representative Lipinski as an amendment to the FAA's re-authorization bill, HR 2115. Congressman Lipinski's amendment would restrict the allotment of new slots at Ronald Reagan National Airport to carriers that use U.S. manufactured aircraft. Although we understand that this amendment did not have support in the committee, we would be concerned if it was introduced on the floor of the House and included in the bill.

We believe that some of our trading partners might argue that this provision is inconsistent with bilateral or multilateral trade agreement obligations, such as those stated in the WTO Agreement on Trade in Civil Aircraft, which provides that "Signatories agree to avoid attaching inducements of any kind to the sale or purchase of civil aircraft from any particular source which would create discrimination against suppliers from any Signatory." The language in Mr. Lipinski's amendment could be interpreted as an inducement for carriers that wish to secure new slots at Ronald Reagan National Airport to acquire U.S.-origin equipment in exchange for those slots. We would strongly oppose efforts by other countries to enact comparable legislation that required the use of their manufactured equipment in exchange for landing rights at their airports. Further, we would be worried, as always in cases such as this, about the risk of retaliation by foreign governments against U.S. firms in the aviation sector or elsewhere in their markets.

The Honorable
Don Young, Chairman
Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure
House of Representative

We hope this information is helpful. Please let us know if we can provide additional information on this matter.

Sincerely,

Paul V. Kelly
Assistant Secretary
Legislative Affairs

Stacia--Once the CIO's office;switches you over to a White House Office account in consonance with your new role, I understand;that you will be able to view;your;previous OA e-mails from your old account.; However, the OA e-mails will;remain in the original electronic records "buckets" in which they were originally placed.; (I.e., the OA "bucket."); Accordingly, if you use one of these e-mails for an action or project you are working on in the White House Office, you should print it out and include it in your;WHO files so it will be records managed as a Presidential record as well.; Let me know if you have any questions.;
